ARBUCKLE AGAIN GOES ON TRIAL

Faces Court on Murder Charge For Third Time

STAR WITNESS IS MISSING

New Evidence Promised by Both State and Defense

SAN FRANCISCO—(Associated Press)—Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, film comedian, today for the third time faced trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, film actress who died after a party in Arbuckle's suite at the Hotel St. Francis, Labor Day, last year.

Arbuckle arrived yesterday from Los Angeles and spent most of the day in conference with his counsel. Evidence not offered at either of the opening trials is promised by both defense and prosecution.

The jury in the first trial voted 10 to 2 for acquittal while the count was reversed at the second trial, being 10 to 2 for conviction.

STAR WITNESS GONE

The trial probably will proceed without the presence of Miss Zey Prevoist, star witness for the prosecution at the preceding hearings. She left San Francisco after the second trial and has been reported living in New Orleans.

Defense attorneys voted by the grand jury against Mrs. Minnie Neighbors and Mrs. Florence Bates as the result of defense testimony they offered at the first Arbuckle hearings, are expected to be considered by the grand jury when it resumes its sessions tonight. Return of the indictments was held up until the grand jurors could question the women.

After the second trial District Attorney Matthew Brady announced that "had a majority of the jury voted for acquittal I would have moved for the dismissal of the case, but the preponderance in favor of a conviction compels me to prosecute it a third time." The second trial was a grand jury indictment. Turn the failure of the jury to agree both the indictment and the county court charge were kept alive.

NICH LIQUOR AT PARTY

Miss Rappe had come to San Francisco with her manager, A. Semacher and Mrs. Delmont for a visit and were invited to the Arbuckle party by Fred Fischback, roommate of Arbuckle. According to the testimony there was a generous supply of liquor at the party and Arbuckle entertained the guests while wearing his pajamas and bathrobe.

After the party Miss Rappe was taken to another room of the hotel and later to the bathroom where she died. While the investigation into the death was progressing Zey Prevoist and Alice Blake, the two principal prosecution witnesses were sent "for safe keeping" to the home of an attorney of the district attorney's office, the fear being expressed that they "might be approached." This action of the district attorney was characterized as "unjustified" by Gavin McNab, chief defense counsel, and was made an issue in both trials.

The testimony of Miss Prevoist and Miss Blake in the second trial, introduced materially from their depositions in the first trial that the prosecution made an attempt to impeach them and designate them "hostile witnesses." This attempt was ruled out by the court. Both testified in the first trial that they had heard Miss Rappe say while suffering on the bed "He hurt me." In the second hearing their collection was hazy on this point.

DIE IN WRECK

Coach of Train Crashes From Trestle in Georgia

ATLANTA, GA. — (Associated Press)—All of the sixteen persons aboard in the derailment and destruction of an Atlanta-Birmingham and Atlantic passenger train en route to Fitzgerald, at Camp Creek Sunday, were out of danger and arrangements were being completed for burial of the seven persons killed. The coach was sent crashing from a trestle into the shallow creek fifty feet below, all of the killed meeting instant death. A broken wheel caused the wreck. A receiver of the road. The train was traveling at a speed of 40 miles an hour at the time the coach started plunging along the track. Brakes were applied but too late to save the car from turning over.

WOMEN JURORS VOTE FOR MERCY IN BELLHOP'S CASE

Three Men Hold Out for Death Penalty—Nierengarten Relieved by Jury Finding—Not Believed New Trial Will be Sought by Lima Youth

WAPAKONETA — (Special) — Whether Harold Nierengarten, Lima Bellhop, slayer of Joseph Scott Kershaw, will ask for a new trial, is undecided, but is believed scarcely likely. It was stated today.

Reports from the county jail are that the prisoner is in better spirits than before the trial, since the verdict of the jury, if permitted to stand, means that Nierengarten will escape the electric chair.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT

Imprisonment in the penitentiary for life, without hope or pardon or parole, is faced by the Lima boy, under the form of verdict returned by the jury. It is generally believed here that Nierengarten and his counsel, Judge C. A. Stueve, will be content to abide by the decision of the jury and accept a sentence of life imprisonment for the youth.

Prosecuting Attorney Karl Timmermeister is disappointed over the jury verdict, it is stated. He expected a decree of guilty of murder, without recommendation of mercy. Judge C. A. Stueve Monday arranged to have a conference with the prisoner, at the county jail, for the purpose of deciding whether any further steps will be taken in behalf of his client, or whether the verdict which was returned will be accepted.

On the first of the six ballots taken by the jury, it is reported that six men and three women voted for a verdict of guilty, with recommendation of mercy. Three men were in favor of a verdict that would carry the death penalty.

The vote changed to 10 to 2, then 11 to 1, then back to 10 to 2 and on the final ballot the verdict was unanimous for a verdict of guilty, with mercy recommendation.

The three women on the jury, Miss Emma Easterly, of Salem; Miss Stella Wilkins, of Noble; and Mrs. Maggie Brewer, of Noble, voted for recommendation for mercy from the first ballot, it is stated.

BOMB THROWN IN U. S. LEGATION

Post in Bulgaria is Attacked by Unknown Persons

SOFIA, Bulgaria — (Associated Press)—The explosion in the American legation Saturday night is believed by the authorities to have been caused by a bomb thrown from the street into the legation conservatory. Passersby pursued a man who may have been responsible for the outrage, but he eluded them in the darkness.

Both the police and the American minister, Charles S. Wilson, believe the act that of a mad man or radicals seeking revenge for the American policy in regard to Soviet Russia.

A person dressed as a working man twice recently had attempted to see Mr. Wilson and the American consul, renewing his attempts Saturday. The fact that the bomb was thrown into the conservatory instead of into Mr. Wilson's residence suggests that it might have been an effort to discredit Bulgaria.

A mass meeting held as a demonstration for the autonomy of Thrace yesterday was turned into a procession which went to the legation and cheered Mr. Wilson. A memorial condemning the bombing of the legation was delivered to Mr. Wilson. U. S. STARTS PROBE

WASHINGTON—(United Press)—Governmental agencies today started investigating an explosion which partly wrecked the American legation at Sofia, Bulgaria, proceeding on the theory it may be one of the recent series of "red" outbreaks against the United States diplomatic buildings.

So far the state and justice departments have only meager details from American Minister Wilson. Wilson reported that while the legation was vacant Saturday night a bomb exploded, causing some damage, but no personal injuries. The Bulgarian police are working on the case, but have furnished no clues.

DODGE, IN "WILD PARTY," JAILED

Son of Millionaire Family Arrested At Kalamazoo

GIRL SERIOUSLY INJURED

Leaps From Auto, Found in Road By Farmer

KALAMAZOO, Mich. — (United Press)—John Duval Dodge, son of the millionaire automobile family of Detroit, was in jail here today charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated and violation of the state liquor laws.

The arrest of Dodge and Rex Earl, a local boy, followed what Prosecutor Stephan Wattles characterized as "a wild party" Saturday night, climaxed by a young normal student girl diving from a speeding automobile onto a country road. The girl was seriously injured and lay in the road for some time before being picked up by a farmer.

"Dodge and Earl picked up the girl on the streets of Grand Rapids Saturday night," Wattles said.

GIRLS TERRORIZED

"Two other girls were also in the party. He induced the normal school student to enter his high-powered machine by telling her that he would take her home."

Instead he took her out in the country and speeded up his automobile to more than 60 miles an hour. "The girls were offered liquor and otherwise terrorized. The normal school student jumped from the machine."

FOUND BY FARMER

The injured girl lay on the frozen road for nearly an hour before a farmer passing by picked her up and took her to the Borgess Hospital where it was stated today that she would recover.

Dodge and Earl were taken into custody early Sunday morning and were held at the county jail without charges being preferred until today.

Held with Dodge and Earl were Miss Ethel Clemens and Miss Sue Stegents, of Grand Rapids. The injured girl, it was said, was Miss Emilene Kwackernack, also of Grand Rapids. She was in her second year at the Western Normal School here.

The story told by the Misses Clemens and Stegents was as follows: "We were at a dance at the armory in Grand Rapids, when we met Dodge and Earl in an automobile, who offered to take us home."

"We were taken from the city at a high rate of speed. We begged Dodge, who was driving, to take us back, but he appeared as tho he did not hear us."

"As the automobile slowed down near Kalamazoo to pass another machine, Miss Kwackernack opened the door and jumped out."

The girls said Dodge drove on despite their cries and appeals to go back after the injured girl. "We called to him to 'Please stop, she has been killed,'" the girls said, "but he did not heed us."

SHE SWIMS TO HEALTH

LOS ANGELES — In four years

Marie Curtis, 17, has changed—

From a weak, anemic little girl, derisively called a "string bean"—

To a beautiful, splendidly proportioned, physically perfect young woman, the amateur swimming champion of the United States.

"Just because I worked to be beautiful and not simply wished to be!" Marie explains.

At five Marie was a little human skeleton, emaciated by the ravages of scarlet fever and diphtheria.

Then her parents, both trained athletes, read of Annette Kellermann and how she had transformed herself, by swimming, from a weakling to a perfect woman and decided to try the same method. It was successful.

HOPE OF AVERTING STRIKE LOST

U. S. Officials Now Feel Mine Walkout Assured

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—Government officials were reported today as being without hope that the threatened coal strike can be averted or that the proposed conference between the operators and miners would be arranged. It was indicated that government intervention at least in the preliminaries of the situation was practically at an end.

Holding that a strike call April 1, is almost inevitable, government officials, according to the view presented today on high authority, now are chiefly interested in seeing that a sufficient supply of coal is maintained for the country as a whole.

The situation with respect to a sufficient supply of coal, it was stated on the same authority, is not acute. There now is at the surface of coal mines and in stocks at consuming centers, it was declared, enough coal to last the country for ten weeks with the prospects, it was added, that this supply will be augmented by production from non-union mines and from operations in union territory which department of labor reports show, are covered by district settlements between the miners' union and local associations of mine operators.

"The degree of the government's intervention in this strike situation," a high official today declared in explaining the policy agreed upon "must be determined by the extent of the public inconvenience and suffering which is caused by the strike."

It was intimated that the government did not propose to enter any attempt to force a conference between the operators and the miners, by legal or other means.

SPOOK MOVES TO OKLAHOMA HOME

ENID, Okla. — (United Press)—Mystery fires declared to have started from "nowhere" in the room of Mrs. Osa Smith, 23, invalid, of Alva, Okla., continued to baffle efforts to determine their origin today, physicians declared.

"It is beyond my power to determine the source of the strange fires," Dr. C. L. Rogers, Alva, physician, is quoted as saying. "It appears impossible that Mrs. Smith could have set the fires herself."

SPOOK MOVES

HALIFAX, N. S. — (United Press)—The incendiary spook of the Alexander McDonald farm, near Caledonian Mills, Nova Scotia, has moved to Oklahoma.

While Dr. W. Franklin Prince, American scientist, was vainly setting "spook traps" here trying to catch the wraith that started 35 fires in the house, reports from Alva, Okla., announced seven mysterious fires burst out in one night in the room of Mrs. Osa Smith, invalid. The fires resembled those which drove the McDonald family out of their house here into the snow.

Rioters Put to Flight After Severe Fighting

JOHANNESBURG, Union of South Africa. — (United Press). — "We have the situation well in hand," a telegram from General Jan C. Smuts, premier of Union of South Africa, to the government, announced today. Smuts is here.

In the Rand mine war, which flamed up Friday and Saturday more than 2,000 strikers had been rounded up by government troops and casualties of 200 killed and 600 wounded had been reported, when miners were put to rout this morning.

After severe fighting, troops which had been brought into action recaptured Benoni and Brakpan, which had been held by the rebels since Friday.

The encounter at Benoni, was a particularly bloody one, the miners ordering their prisoners and setting fire to buildings, before being driven out at the point of the bayonet.

Recapture of these two towns relieves the situation which had threatened the fall of central Johannesburg by miners.

SMUTS KILLED UPON

General Smuts arrived here yesterday and went at once to the troubled areas at the extremities of Rand. He had a narrow escape, his car being fired upon and struck by bullets. The premier was unhurt.

Rebel atrocities at Boksburg were reported. It was announced they were in retaliation for the burning of the crowded hall, where a miners' meeting was being held. The use of airplanes by the authorities has inflamed native opinion.

In the capture of the Brixton Ridge portion of the Rand mines, artillery and infantry were used. The miners were swept from positions they had captured from the police, but only after a desperate battle. They clung tenaciously until an artillery barrage blasted their shallow trenches and hand grenades and bombs from the air drove them out.

An infantry charge resulted in more than 2,000 of them being surrounded and captured. Many natives and white miners' leaders were killed.

An official statement was issued. It read:

JOHANNESBURG STORMED
"Operations are progressing satisfactorily. Numerous beleaguered detachments of police have been relieved by airplane reconnaissance."

In fighting for possession of Johannesburg before arrival of government reinforcements, miners almost completely surrounded the town and launched repeated attacks which were beaten off by the police. The strikers made desperate attempts to seize Johannesburg in order to cut communications with the government.

The fire raged through the south and east of the town with numerous toll of Friday and Saturday. Casualties added to the long death toll fighting took place at Boksburg, where strikers, armed with Lewis guns, replied to a shower of bombs from airplanes.

An Irish club here was seized by government troops, and its members they were implicated in fomenting placed under arrest, on suspicion the present trouble.

Radicals threaten the Rand district have seized upon the gold miners' strike to stir up the natives against the local government and what began as a mine war grew quickly to assume the proportions of a revolution.

GOVERNMENT CRISIS

LONDON — (United Press) — The coalition government, leaderless for the moment, while Lloyd George is on a holiday in Wales, today was faced with a series of crises which threatened its downfall.

Trouble in India, in the Transvaal, in the Near East and at home, confronted the already shaky Lloyd George ministry.

A hurry call for Lloyd George to return to the helm of the badly battered ship of state has been sent out, it was reported. The premier might start back for London today, it was said.

Anticipated trouble in India, where scarcely repressed revolt has been intensified by the arrest and arraignment of Gandhi, began with the slaying of two natives in the Haridwar district, following rioting. Gandhi and a banker arrested with him, pleaded guilty to the charges of sedition. Fears are expressed that Sikhs in the Punjab district, many of whom have deserted to join revolutionary bands, may mutiny. The first troubles since the arrest of Gandhi occurred in the agricultural districts.

LIQUOR RETURNED

CLEVELAND — Three hundred and fifty cases of bonded whisky, seized here some months ago while in transit to New York, were ordered returned to the owner, Louis E. Engleberg, a New York broker, by United States Judge D. C. Westhaven today. Engleberg proved to have a legal permit for purchase and transportation of the liquor from a Louisville, Ky., warehouse.

"THE RIDER OF GOLDEN BAR"—NEW NEWS NOVEL

IF YOU LIKE REAL WESTERN FICTION, YOU WILL WANT TO READ THIS FINE STORY—BEGIN TODAY

By William Patterson White

CHAPTER I
"But why don't you do something, Bill?" demanded Sam Prescott's pretty daughter.
Bill Wingo looked at Miss Prescott in injured astonishment. "Do something?" he repeated. "What do you want me to do?"
"You make me th... Bill. Here you've got a claim and a little bunch of cows. Instead of working like a man you loaf like a—"
"Like a loafer," he prompted.
"Bill, can't you understand that I like you, and—"
"Easily," he grinned. "Of course you like me. You'll have to marry me, I'm afraid, Sally Jane."
"Will you? And you're afraid, are you? You big, overgrown, lazy lummoxy. I wouldn't marry you ever."
"I know you mean well, Sally Jane, and—"
"And it's none of my business? You're quite right, Bill—but can't you see I'm talking for your own good?"
"Sure, yes. My pa used to talk just like that before he'd go out behind the corral with a breeching strap in one hand and my ear in the other. I used to hurt most unpleasant for two-three days after. Old times, old times. Now I take it you were never licked, Sally Jane. That was a mistake. You should have been— What? You don't mean to say you're going home? And we were getting along so nicely too. Well, it willful must, I must. I'll hold your horse for you."

He watched her ride away along the side of Lenny's Hill.
The view from Lenny's Hill was all that could be desired. At the base of the hill the Golden Bar-Hillsville trail led the eye westward to where Golden Bar, a collection of toy houses, each one startlingly clear in that rarefied atmosphere, sprawled along the further bank of Wagon-Jack River.
Crocker county, 400 miles long by 300 miles wide, bounded on the east by the Wagonack, ran well up into the Medicine Mountains.
Political pickings in Crocker were consistently good. Crocker laws, provided the suspected person of persons were friendly with the county officials, were not administered with undue severity. Coarse work was never tolerated naturally; but if one were judicious and a good picker, one could travel far and profitably. Crocker was, as counties go, fertile ground for easy consciences.

Bill Wingo watched the moving pencil end that was Miss Prescott. Another pencil end was riding the same trail—way from Golden Bar. Bill Wingo intently scrutinized the wayfarer from Golden Bar side.

"Looks like Jack Ma... a's sore," he mused. "If they stop, it's Jack." The pencil ends drew together at the lower end of the grove. They stopped.
"Shucks," Mr. Wingo muttered mildly. "I never did like that man."

Said the first pencil end to the second pencil end, "Hello, Sally Jane."
"Morning, Jack."
"I'll ride along with you."
"All right. At times I've known you to be amusing, Jack."
He spurred alongside and turned in his saddle to stare at her.
"Is that all I'm good for—to help pass the time?"
"What else is a man good for?"
"Don't be so flip, Sally Jane. You know—" He stopped short.
She waited a moment. Then, "I know what?"
"You know I've been loving you a long, long time," he said abruptly. "I didn't want to tell you till I had something to offer you besides myself. And now I've got something—"

Rafe Tuckleton has promised to make me sheriff."
"I thought the voters usually decided such things," she said.
He laughed cynically. "Not in Crocker. Well, what do you say?"
She looked at him coolly. "What is this—a proposal?"
"Don't you understand?" he said earnestly. "Don't you understand that I love you, Sally Jane? And I want you."
Sally Jane continued to look at him.
"I understand that you want me," she told him calmly. "Why not? My type appeals to your type, that's all. Appeals physically. I mean. You'd like to possess me, but you don't love me, Jack Murray."
"I'm gonna marry you," he persisted.
Jamming his horse against hers he pinioned both her hands with his right, swung his left arm around her waist and crushed her gapping against his chest. She struggled, but he was a man, and strong. Forcing the back of the hand that contained her two hands under her chin he tilted her head up and back.

COMPLAINANT IN CASE MISSING

Warren Sturgess, Alias H. E. Thacker, Not Located

COURT TALE RIVALS FICTION

Quartette Held Here for Theft of Auto and Money

The eternal triangle, with the points resting on Hagerstown, Maryland, Lima and Columbus, figures in a local police court tale that rivals the wildest fiction. Four persons, accused by "H. E. Thacker," 133 N. Jackson, with having stolen his Willys Knight auto and $765 in cash, Wednesday night, are concerned.

They are: Mrs. Carrie Thacker, 27; Mrs. Ethel Phillips, 22; Bryan Carson, 24, and John Scott, all of Columbus. They were captured Saturday night by police in the capital city and held in custody until Sunday, when Captain George Strick and Officer B. J. Watkins went after them.

Revenge is the motive for "Thacker," alias Warren Sturgess, having filed the charges against them, Mrs. Thacker said. He declared that his wife's name is Harry Thacker, but that he resides in Columbus, at 132 McDowell-st.

Sturgess impersonated him, the woman said, that he might "get even" with her for leaving his employ as his housekeeper in Hagerstown.

According to the story told by the man whom Mrs. Thacker says is Sturgess, the Columbus quartette came to visit him in this city Wednesday, and while he was out attending to his duties as a journalistic peddler, they got away with his auto and the money.

They were unwelcome guests at his home, she said, and further avowed they were to kill him.

But they deny ever being in Lima before, and declared before Judge Emmett Jackson Monday they are able to furnish proof that they were holding a birthday party for Scott in Columbus the night the alleged theft took place.

Mrs. Thacker said up until a week ago she was employed by Sturgess in Hagerstown, and left after he threatened to take her life. She made the allegation that he is a deserter from the U. S. army, having taken French leave at Columbus.

THREATENED WITH DEATH Because he was afraid she would inform her relatives of his desertion, he threatened to kill her by means of a gun, she said.

He also wrote threatening letters to Mrs. Phillips, her sister, at her home in Chillicothe, declaring he would "get her," too, if she " squealed."

On March 3, Mrs. Phillips, Carson and Scott, drove to Hagerstown by auto and took her to the home of her mother in Columbus, Mrs. Thacker said. Sturgess, whom she said was employed by a vacuum cleaner concern, was absent at the time.

After she was gone, he set about to devise a way to bring her within his grasp again, she says. His story about her, Mrs. Phillips, Carson and Scott, visiting last week and stealing his property is pure fabrication, Mrs. Thacker averred.

The woman denies she was in love with Sturgess, but did not deny that he loved her. Her theory is that he came to Lima after her escape from Hagerstown and concocted a scheme to get hold of her by causing her arrest.

"Thacker," alias Sturgess, did not put in an appearance Monday morning and diligent search by police failed to disclose him either at home or in his customary haunts. Mrs. Thacker urged them to seek him out, but warned that he "flew the coop." A charge of perjury may be lodged against Sturgess if he is caught, the court said.

COINCIDENCE IN FIGURES Judge Jackson declared he suspected something when he noted the coincidence that "Thacker" said the license number of the alleged stolen car was 107,865, the value $1,765 and the amount of the money supposed to have been stolen, $765. The series 65 attracted his attention.

Sturgess is described as a tall man of heavy build, his most prominent marks of identification being a scar under the right nostril and a pretzel tattooed on one of his arms. The description was given by Mrs. Thacker.

Scott is said to be Mrs. Thacker's brother. He averred that he is employed in a Columbus plant as an assembler. Carson is her brother-in-law, she said. He is employed as a truck driver and carried a number of instruments which identified him with that occupation. He also wears a khaki outfit.

Mrs. Phillips' husband resides in Chillicothe, the judge was informed. She has several children.

POLICE BELIEVE STORY Police were inclined to believe their story, especially that of Mrs. Thacker.

Chief of Police Dawson said he attaches no credence to the report that the people are wanted in Martinsville Va. for robbing a bank of $750 and killing the cashier February 27. He said he did not question Columbus concerning what justification they have for such belief.

Pending investigation into the matter, the quartette was remanded to jail for a hearing Tuesday at 1 p. m. In an examination Mrs. Thacker admitted her husband has not been living with her and that she has been trying to make a living by house-keeping for others.

FINED FOR DRUNKENNESS Ben Althoff, 33, E. McKibben-st., was fined $15 and sentenced to ten days in the city jail, Monday morning when he pleaded guilty to drunkenness.

ADULTS DRUNKENNESS Floyd Mitchell, 19, of 931 S. Main-st., admitted in police court, Monday that he had been drunk. He was arrested at First-st. and Green-lawn-st., Sunday night. He was released.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS WILL MARCH TO HOME OF BROTHER JERRY DUGGAN TUESDAY AT 7:30 P. M. JOHN KEVILLE.

WAR DECRIED BY FORUM SPEAKER Elizabeth Hauser Urges that Warfare be Made Illegal

"Make warfare illegal." This was the keynote of an address by Miss Elizabeth Hauser, of Grand, before the Open Forum meeting, Sunday afternoon, in the Congregational church.

The largest attendance present at any similar meeting, greeted the speaker.

Miss Hauser advocated the plan of Levinson, who drew up the document which Senator Knox, previous to his death, had submitted. It provided for the establishment of a new code of international law, the purpose of which will be to make warfare illegal.

She advised the assembling of the best judicial minds of the country and submitting to them international questions. While Senator Knox believed it would require at least five years in which to do this, Miss Hauser limited the time to two years.

She entered into a discussion of past history, telling how people first assembled in the churchyard and there battled to settle their troubles. The winner of the fight was declared to be right. Internationally now, Miss Hauser said the same means is being used to decide the victor.

Then came the opening of courts under the reign of Louis, King of France, in 1250 and since that time questions of discussion have been submitted to such tribunals. The speaker suggested this was now the part international law should play in the settlement of national questions.

Miss Hauser assisted Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, in compiling his biography.

Mrs. W. B. Kirk led the music, patriotic numbers forming the program. No forum will be held next Sunday.

Whitling Williams, Cleveland, workingman and writer of note, who has traveled extensively, will be the speaker at the session on March 26.

TREATY BRANDED U. S. SURRENDER

Four-Power Pact Attacked by Senator Johnson

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—Assailing the four-power treaty as a "quadruple alliance," Senator Johnson, Republican, California, told the senate today that its ratification would mean not only a recession from American tradition but a national surrender under threat of foreign power.

If the statements of the treaty's friends are to be accepted, Senator Johnson declared, the treaty is the Anglo-Japanese alliance is to be regarded as the chief purpose of the four-power arrangement, then the conclusion is that the United States must enter the "new alliance" to escape a threat of danger because of the old.

"The argument for this present surrender of our ancient policy of independence as a nation," continued the California senator, "is nothing in the end but the one word—(danger.) The Anglo-Japanese alliance, the gentlemen on the other side say, exposes us to danger. Therefore, we have no choice. We must accept this treaty."

"I shall vote against this treaty because if any foreign alliance can ever speak to this country with the word 'must,' then the spirit which made this country safe when it was feeble will have departed from it and our record in history will be that of a nation that has sold its soul for safety, we lost safety itself."

Mr. Johnson quoted many utterances of Japanese and British statesmen giving assurances that the Anglo-Japanese alliance never was directed against the United States and asserted in these solemn declarations were not to be believed, then this government was following a foolish policy by establishing a partnership with powers which had deliberately deceived the American people.

19,000 ARMY CUT GIVEN O. K.

Bill, Slashing Appropriations, Reported to House

$116,000,000 LOPPED OFF

Also Provides for Recalling Troops From Abroad

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press)—With provisions which would necessitate reduction of the size of the regular army to 115,000 enlisted men and 11,000 officers, the army appropriation bill, carrying $270,353,070.67, was reported today by the house appropriation committee.

The amount recommended for the military and non-military activities of the war department during the coming fiscal year is a reduction of $116,000,000 from the total appropriated for the current year and $37,936,086.80 less than budget estimates.

WOULD RECALL TROOPS As drafted by a sub-committee headed by Representative Anthony, Republican, Kansas, the bill would require the return to the United States by next July 1, of all troops stationed in China, 6,500 men from Hawaii, about 2,000 men from the Panama canal zone and all but 100 officers and men in the army of occupation on the Rhine.

The contemplated withdrawals, it was said, would leave 5,000 men in the Hawaiian Islands and a like number in the Canal Zone. The present actual strength of the army was given by the committee as about 13,000 officers and 132,000 men, exclusive of 7,000 Philippine scouts.

An appropriation of $27,635,360 is recommended for continuance of work on various river and harbor improvements for which the chief of engineers requested $43,000,000; $12,431,000 for the air service against $15,000,000 requested and $23,150,200 for the national guard, about $4,000,000 less than budget estimates.

CHEMICAL WARFARE SERVICE The committee recommended $500,000 for the chemical warfare service, declaring that sum sufficient to provide for a "minimum amount of development work and present along lines compatible with present conditions," and for maintaining Edgewood arsenal in stand-by condition. An appropriation of $2,750,000 is recommended for supplies and equipment of the reserve officers training camp and $1,300,000 for civilian military training camps.

The bill carries $7,740,000 for the cadence department to meet, in addition to other expenses, the cost of maintaining a skeleton force at Benning "to keep alive the knowledge of the method of manufacture." The substance of the army, the committee recommended $16,850,000, approximately $13,000,000 less than last year's appropriation.

EXPENSIVE METHOD The sub-committee which spent three months in holding hearings and framing the bill, reported that "the excessive cost" of maintaining the regular army over pre-war expenditures "was found to be largely due to the expensive methods of its administration."

Commenting on the cost of maintaining troops on the Rhine, the committee calls attention to Germany's failure to pay the cost. The committee also declared that "no adequate reason has been shown for the maintenance of any troops in China."

An appropriation of $425,000 is recommended for the construction, repair and maintenance of roads, bridges and aprons in Alaska.

An appropriation of $55,000 is recommended for construction of additional ward at Letterman general hospital, San Francisco, $262,000 for general construction work at Camps Dix, Meade and Lewis, and $198,000 for additional quarters for guards at the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas disciplinary barracks.

For protection of food control work on the Mississippi river and $100,000 for similar activities on the Sacramento river, California.

A total of $400,000 would be available, under the bill for construction of additional quarters at Camp Benning, Georgia, and $35,000 more is recommended for the infantry school conducted there.

STOP WHINING OF HARD TIMES

Southern Orator and Evangelist So Advises Lima Audience

Bob Jones, southern orator and evangelist, gave two talks in Lima, Sunday, at 2 p. m. in the Methodist church, Alker.

His afternoon address touched on sin and how men should counteract it.

"You can't keep the skeleton locked in the closet," he declared. "Sin puts its mark on the body and paints its picture on the human face. Sin shows a furrow in the brain. God made us so we can't sin and get away with it."

The speaker declared that sin offends the life of the wife and children.

"All a rich man takes to hell is memory," he stated during the course of his talk.

He further added that one of the dangers of America today is that the country is losing its sense of sin. All the discords of the world have come from sin.

Between 700 and 800 men heard the evangelist deliver his address in the afternoon. At night a number were turned away from Trinity church, because of lack of seating room.

"An Opportunity on Wheels" was his night address.

"One trouble with America is the non-going church," he said. "We are dying for lack of religious passion. The greatest benefactor is the one who helps another find God. No man can do two men's work. Your work is the best you got in you."

The evangelist urged the American people to quit whining about hard times, also he said it is not a child's play to live right now.

Loren Jones had charge of singing at both services.

NO LENIENCY FOR LOAD VIOLATORS

Officials Determined to Protect Highways of County

Restrictions limiting the weight of vehicles and loads on country roads will be maintained off and on during the next two months, Walter R. Toy, county surveyor declared, Monday.

"If the present fair weather continues we expect to lift the restriction temporarily," he said, "and will notify the public that the roads are open." While the frost is coming out of the ground and the roads are spongy, we believe that one vehicle can do more damage than can be repaired in a month."

No further arrests for violation of the Burke law have been made by deputy sheriffs patrolling the highways, Toy, however, believes that some persons may be brought in.

Unless circumstances warrant, leniency will not be shown as was the case when 15 men arrested last week were arraigned in common pleas court, Saturday.

Many inquiries are being received by Toy regarding the limit of weight and he believes that the majority of team and truck owners mean to comply with the law.

The limit set is 300 pounds per inch of wheel width. This includes the weight of both vehicle and load.

'LENS RESENTED BY HUMAN EYE'

Glasses Will Not Improve Sight, Specialist Declares

'CAN BE CURED BY EXERCISE'

Strain Is Of The Mind, Dr. Bates Claims

Oculists and optometrists throughout the world are watching with interest the experiments of Dr. William H. Bates, eye specialist, who is endeavoring to rectify disorders of the eyes without glasses. Dr. Bates, in the following article written for The Lima News, tells his theory.

BY DR. WILLIAM H. BATES Eye Specialist, Lecturer and Author of "Perfect Sight Without Glasses"

NEW YORK—(Special)—If you wear glasses, discard them. You can be cured of near-sightedness, far-sightedness and astigmatism if you learn to rest your eyes.

It is not quite as easy as it sounds. Yet school children have done it as well as adults. Among my assistants at a hospital clinic are 15 girls between 10 and 14 years old. They used to wear glasses. But they helped cure themselves and are now curing others.

All eye trouble is caused by strain. If the normal eye strains to read at a near point, it becomes far-sighted. If the eye strains to read at a distance, it becomes near-sighted—always.

But this condition is only temporary. Remove the strain and the eyes become normal.

CANNOT REMOVE STRAIN The wearing of glasses cannot remove the strain. If it did, the eye would become cured and glasses would no longer be necessary.

A matter of fact, once a person starts wearing glasses, the strength of the lenses may have to be increased, steadily.

Yet when people break their glasses and go without them for a week or two, they frequently observe that their sight has improved.

The human eye resents glasses. Every oculist knows that patients have to "get used" to them—sometimes they never succeed in doing so.

Glasses have been prescribed on the old theory that the eye changes its focus for vision at different distances by altering the curvature of the lenses of the eye. When the ciliary muscles, supposed to control the lens, get into a continuous state of contraction or expansion, the eye becomes permanently out of focus and correction is necessary.

The correction is supposed to come with the wearing of the glasses. But cure? Never.

The problem puzzled me. I studied the eyes of the lower animals and particularly fish.

I soon discovered that the errors in refraction are due not to a permanent deformation of the eyeball, but to a functional and therefore curable derangement in the action of the extrinsic muscles—brought on by strain.

Remove the strain and the eye becomes normal.

Primarily the strain to see is the strain of the mind. To secure relaxation requires considerable time and much ingenuity. The same method cannot be used with everyone. But the best way to bring about this rest is:

FIRST—Close the eyes. SECOND—Cover with the palms of the hands, shutting off all light. THIRD—Think of perfect mental pictures, about the snow, grass, sunset.

FOURTH—Rest for a period varying from 5 to 60 minutes. FIFTH—Then look at a test card with one eye and then the other.

The sight will be improved and the eye strengthened. In some cases five or ten minutes treatment is sufficient to restore the eye to normal. In other instances it is necessary to continue the relaxation for several months.

Continue this exercise for a few minutes a day to prevent a relapse. When the cure is complete, it is always permanent.

JEWELL DEMANDS 'YELLOW SHEETS'

Union Chief Asks Report on Rail Propaganda

CHICAGO—(Associated Press)—B. M. Jewell, head of the shop cratts, today began the presentation of protests from railroad labor organizations against the legality of the wage conferences held recently throughout the country between railroad heads and employees.

He claimed these conferences were not carried out in accordance with the terms of the transportation act and cited instances of alleged violations by railroad executives.

Before opening his argument, Mr. Jewell requested of the labor board and each member individually a report on the amount of propaganda and "yellow sheets" received from the Association of Railway Executives.

He requested the number of such communications received and the substance of their statements, and similar information about pamphlets from the National Chamber of Commerce and other employers' organizations.

This information was desired, he said, to see whether these organizations "really understood railroad management and its problems."

At the same time he asked the labor board members for a list of the published propaganda and contents received from labor organizations other than railroad labor unions.

Various other railroad labor leaders also indicated they would make formal protests against the wage conferences, including representatives of the maintenance of way, oilers, telegraphers and dispatchers' unions.

BINGHAM BOOSTS ZONING PLAN

Would Concentrate Factories, Stores, Residences

MANAGER OUTLINES PROJECT

Urges Action Now For Reaping Results Later

Putting into effect a zoning system in Lima, for the purpose of concentrating factories, hotels and the residential section is being favorably considered in the city, Manager C. A. Bingham declared Monday.

This plan is meeting with favor all thru the country," he declared, "and should do much to beautify Lima." It has received the backing of the Real Estate Board and the Chamber of Commerce and is generally looked on with favor.

PLAN IS OUTLINED
Bingham, who declared that zoning is the only way to put a zoning system into effect, said the principal idea is to do away with small business stores in the heart of good residential sections. He says that in parts of the city a grocery store or some other business is located in a street where there are a number of fine homes, spoiling the appearance and property value of this section.

By concentrating all the business in all the homes, he believes, not only the general appearance of the city would be bettered, but the value of property will increase.

He said in cities where this plan has been successfully put into effect the following classification is usually carried out:

(a) Heavy business, such as factories, all together.

(b) Semi-industries, such as gas-bottle filling station, and the like.

(c) Commercial, downtown business section.

(d) Apartment houses and hotels.

(e) Residential.

The manager said that if this plan had been put into effect in Lima 10 years ago a marked change would be noted in Lima today.

Or, if it is established now, a change will be noticed 10 years hence, he stated.

STATIONS AFFECTED
In speaking of gasoline filling stations in residential sections, he said the general plan was to concentrate them or to put them on corners where they would not greatly affect the appearance of homes in the near vicinity.

"What would a man think if there was a vacant lot beside his home and someone was to build a factory there?" the manager asked. "At present this can be done in Lima, as there is no ordinance to the contrary. The zoning system eliminates this possibility."

The plan at present is in its infancy but it is being considered favorably by various city organizations, Bingham declared.

WORKMEN COMPLETING REPAIRS AT POSTOFFICE: NEW BUILDING PROSPECT

Lima's prospects of obtaining a new postoffice building are good, if a bill pending before Congress to erect a number of new buildings throughout the country as a means of reducing unemployment, is passed. Postmaster A. E. Gale stated Monday.

On the other hand, Gale predicted that if the bill does not pass, there is no hope of a new building being erected here for some time at least.

Workmen are just completing repairs on the old building at High and Elizabeth streets, Gale said. The cost of these alterations is approximately $13,000.

Additional space for carriers is needed in the basement and ventilators have been put on all windows in the building, affording an abundance of fresh air without direct draft. A telephone system connecting all departments in the building is proving a great time and labor saver, according to Postmaster Gale.

TAX DOES NOT WORRY "WILLIE"

A mistaken idea seems to possess a lot of persons concerning their duty in the matter of filing an income tax return. Tax return must be filed by "every citizen of the United States, whether residing at home or abroad, and every resident of the United States, who not a citizen thereof, whose gross income for the taxable period of 1921 amounted to $5,000 or whose net income amounted to $1,000, if single or if married and not living with husband or wife, and $2,000 if married and living with husband or wife."

So you see about the only folks who can hope to expect to escape are the men who do not or others who have no incomes whatsoever, or less than specified in the law governing such tax. Willie, the knight of the road, who "toils not and neither does he spin," has nothing to worry about when he sees a "Pay Income Tax Here" sign confronting him.

The flotsam and jetsam, the human driftwood of life, who scorn to seek an income, are not listed in Uncle Sam's "big book."

Wednesday is the last day for filing a return.

SUE BONDSMEN IN STOOY CASE

Technical Question is at Issue in Suit For $276

Whether money paid by the War department during the war was an allowance to a dependent can be credited on the amount awarded a child for support, is to be an issue in the trial brought by the state in relation to the case of Catherine Stooey against Ray Stooey.

Trial commenced before a jury in common pleas court Monday.

J. A. Stooey, attorney, Culp, bondsmen for Ray Stooey, are being asked to pay a sum amounting to $276, due Catherine, the daughter.

Pearl Stooey, mother of the girl, is bringing the suit. Statements made by attorneys to the jury indicate that in 1919 the couple separated and the court ordered the defendant to pay $2 a week for the child's maintenance.

Part of this money was paid, but when payments ceased the father was sent to Ohio state penitentiary. His attorneys will seek to show that no money is due, because during the period he was in the army the government paid $10 a month to the daughter and $80 a month was allotted the mother.

The jurors selected to hear the case are:

FRONT OF RESTAURANT SMASHED BY TRIO AFTER THEY WERE THROWN OUT

When they snowballed them with "Irish confetti," three men broke three plate glass windows and the glass in a door at the Elfr Brentlinger soft drink parlor and restaurant, 233 N. Central-av, Sunday at 2 a. m., police assert.

The men, including Jeano Williams, 32, colored, 419 E. Fourth-st., were creating a disturbance in the place, and were asked to quit. But they persisted, he said in criminal court, so the three went out via the "back route."

But they objected to the locomotion and immediately showered the windows with bricks they found nearby, and one man sped a .32 caliber bullet into the place, Brentlinger said.

Williams was arrested Sunday at 12:10 p. m. He pleaded guilty Monday morning in criminal court to a charge of drunkenness and was fined $15 and given ten days in the city jail.

The other two men were unidentified by Brentlinger.

KENTUCKY FACES GAS CRISIS

Situation Described in Book Written by Dr. Jilison

DWINDLING SUPPLY SEEN

Speedy Conservation on Part of State Urged

FRANKFORT, Ky. — (Associated Press) — Kentucky faces a crisis in the production of natural gas because of the limitation of her own gas fields and because of the out-of-the-state supply being cut down, according to Dr. Willard Rouse Jilison, director of the Kentucky Geological Survey, who has just completed a book on the oil and gas resources of Kentucky.

The state is now producing only one-fourth of the amount of natural gas she is consuming and it will not be long before she will be called upon to produce more owing to reduction of the supplies from Ohio and West Virginia.

SPEDDY ACTION URGED
"In the natural gas problem the necessity for immediate conservation is perhaps more vividly apparent than in any of the other mineral resources. This is particularly true of the gas reserves of Kentucky."

The really serious situation which had developed in West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania may be delayed in Kentucky if effective preservation measures are introduced at once. The matter is urgent. As in all regional problems of natural resource conservation, the actual cooperation of the individual producer and consumer, as well as that of the conservation-effecting agent, will be required if the best results are to be obtained," says Dr. Jilison in the preface to his volume.

All phases of conservation from the newly-drilled well to the handling of natural gas in the homes are treated by Dr. Jilison. He takes up each field in the state and gives a brief account of its location and production. Discussing the history of natural gas in this state Dr. Jilison says:

"The commercial production of natural gas in the state of Kentucky dates back to the year 1863, when the old Moreman well, near Brandenburg, Meade-co, was drilled. It was utilized in the manufacture of salt from brines which were found associated with the gas in this and other wells in the Brandenburg district. For a number of years this Ohio River field was the only one of much importance in the state, but with the discovery of natural gas in large amounts in Ohio and West Virginia in the middle 80's, increased activity at once set in, which resulted in the laying of an 8-inch transmission line from the Brandenburg field to Louisville. The metropolis of Kentucky, situated 30 miles to the northwest of this gas field, thus became the first large consumer, and the Kentucky Rock Gas Company, later the Kentucky Heating and Lighting Company, which supplied the natural gas, became the first public utilities corporation giving natural gas service."

DE VALERA MEN OPENDRIVE

Gunmen Aid in Campaign Against Irish Free State

DUBLIN — (United Press) — Followers of De Valera have begun an active, armed campaign against the Irish free state.

Gunmen, remnants of the so-called "murder gangs," threatened Michael Collins with death at Cork and Arthur Griffith speaking at Dundalk, was heckled and jeered.

Collins, who addressed stormy street meetings at Cork, the center of republicanism, in favor of the free state, was held up at Cork cemetery by gunmen who threatened to shoot him and his party if they approached the place where Irish republican army heroes are buried.

Despite threats, he launched fearlessly into a series of speeches, which were frequently interrupted by the De Valerites. At one point in a speech, revolvers were fired near the platform and a disturbance created which drowned out the speaker. Collins, persisted, however, and won many of his hearers.

BUSY DAYS FOR REVENUE COLLECTOR AS CLOSE OF TAX RETURN TIME NEARS

Prospects for three crowded days of work loomed Monday when John Marsh, deputy collector of internal revenue, arrived at his office in the federal building to find a line of taxpayers waiting to file income schedules.

"I haven't had a moment's breathing spell," he declared at noon.

Tuesday and Wednesday are the last days for filing returns.

After that, Marsh said, all who have not made out a return are subject to the penalty.

At least one-fourth of the tax must be paid with the return, he said.

Checks in payment of taxes are not as large as a year ago, when wartime prosperity was fading and business depression loomed on the horizon.

KILLORAN OBSEQUIES

BROTHERHOOD MEETING

The Brotherhood of Bethany Lutheran church will meet in the church parlors on Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Louis Bradshaw, secretary of the M. C. A., will address the men. Members of the church and their friends are invited.

DR. THURSTON DEAD

TOLEDO — Dr. Cyrus M. Thurston, 55, one of the most prominent surgeons in the middle west, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Belle Baird, here late yesterday. Dr. Thurston was the founder of Grace Hospital in Cleveland several years ago, and lived in that city until a year ago when illness forced him to give up his work. Since that time he has made his home in Toledo.

Ford school for owners and drivers opens on March 15th at 7:30 P. M. at Timmerman Motor Sales Company, 428 N. Main St.

ISAAC WALTON SEES VISIONS

State of the weather at present has revived hopes in the breast of the ardent Isaac Walton for a speedy opening of the fishing season. The most enthusiastic angler doesn't pin much faith in his ability to snare any considerable number of fish until after the earth worms begin coming out of winter confinement.

Prediction of rain late tonight and Tuesday is looked upon as a sign that "wiggling fish food" will soon be coming to the surface. The prediction of the weatherman is that warmer conditions are to prevail too. While no one in particular is pinning for rain, promise of showers now is taken to mean that spring is drawing nearer.

Fresh to strong south to southwest winds are listed too as possibilities for tonight and Tuesday.

JUSTICE, FREEDOM FOR ALL, PLEA

Dean of Oxford College Addresses Girls of Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. Alice Hill Byrne, dean of Western college, Oxford, spoke on "Three Kinds of Homelessness," at the vesper service at the Y. W. C. A., Sunday. Approximately 100 young women and their friends attended.

Dean Byrne told of the homelessness which is absent to the trained mind, when by means of a poem or a good book, it can, at once, be at home.

She discussed the security which girls can feel from a home and told how four square walls do not merely mean a home, unless clothed with all the qualities of a home.

Climax of her address was reached when she pleaded for justice and freedom for all people and friendly relations among the races. Dean Byrne predicted that when this condition is reached, it will be "the City of God" upon the earth.

The speaker told of college life, how 250 young women at Oxford learned how to work and then how to enjoy play. She described the new Greek theater there, in which the class play will be held outdoors this year.

Mrs. A. N. Wisely, chairman of the girls' work committee, was in charge of the program for the day.

Girl Reserves of Central and South High schools marched into the room, preceded by two young women, attired as the spirit of the association and the spirit of America.

Miss Erle Dempster, president of South High school Blue Triangle club, led the responsive prayer service. Miss Muriel Neuman, president of Central High Blue Triangle club, introduced the speaker.

A pantomime, "World Friendship" was a feature and Girl Reserves sang and repeated their code. The service was closed by the singing of "The Day is Dying in the West."

DEATH SUMMONS COMES TO RETIRED MINISTER

Rev. Isaiah Miller, 75, retired Lutheran minister, who was engaged in the grocery business on W. Spring st., died at his home in the St. James apts., W. Spring-st., Sunday at 9:15 p. m. He was ill 50 hours. Death was due to apoplexy.

Rev. Miller was born in Mahoning co. He had resided in Lima more than a quarter of a century. After retiring from the ministry, he engaged in the grocery business. He was frequently called upon to officiate at funerals and weddings. He was for some years pastor of Bethany Lutheran church, Spring and Pierce-sts.

Besides the widow, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. James Halfhill, and a son, Clarke Miller, both of Lima. He was a member of Lima Lodge of Pythians and of Solar Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the residence. Interment in Woodlawn.

CLEANUP WEEK COMMITTEE TO LAY PLANS TUESDAY

Plans for Lima's clean-up week, April 1 to 7, will be perfected at a meeting of the organization committee, Tuesday at 3 p. m., in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. Earl Rohn, member of the city commission, is chairman of the committee and will lead the initial work for the drive.

A general discussion of the drive will be the main topic of Tuesday's meeting, although plans will probably be mapped out.

This effort was planned following receipt of a bulletin from the Ohio State Fire Marshal's department, Saturday, setting the dates.

TALK OF THE TOWN

DURANT puts out a new cheap car, known as the Starr, to buck Henry Ford. This will cause more talk among Americans than 10,000 Genoa conferences. That's something to be thankful for.

The really important problems of the world are problems of production and distribution of commodities.

A cheaper auto, a gasoline substitute, a harder wheat that moves the bread belt farther north—these are of more consequence than the intrigues of diplomats. And Americans know it.

AMERICANS find international politics stupid and boring. We give the statesmen and their wrangles a quick but penetrating analysis, then form an opinion based on intuition, dismiss the matter and turn to the greater problems of production.

It is this concentration on production that has made the American standard of living the highest in the world.

While other nations have been breeding diplomats and trouble, Americans have given the world the telephone, reaper, telegraph, street car, sewing machine, elevator, skyscraper, submarine, airplane, electric light, vulcanization of rubber, automatic machine, mass production, washing machine, typewriter, steamship, automobile, phonograph, modern moving picture, fountain pen and millions of other useful devices.

EUROPE seems to have a difficult time understanding us, especially our instinctive abhorrence of mixing in international political wrangles.

The blue foxes of the Yukon have an equally hard time understanding the busy ant and beaver.

America's foreign policy can be boiled down to this: "As soon as you're ready to get down to business and start production on an intensive scale, we're with you."

If the Genoa conference were called to discuss a method of making flivvers at $.10 a gross, American interest would center on it like a burning glass.

ACTION ON ROADS

AFTER many vexations delays, action of a desirable character is soon to be had in the matter of awarding contracts for the construction of state aid roads in Allen-co. The Waynesfield and the Elida-rd, sadly in need of attention, are to be improved and nearly a four-mile section of the Dixie Highway is planned thru Beaverdam.

In fact, the projects have been advanced to the point that the contracts are to be awarded by the state highway department on March 20 and 27. In addition to being badly needed, in the program of better highways, these contracts will result in affording employment to many who are now unemployed.

County commissioners, township trustees chamber of commerce officials, the automobile club, civic clubs—in fact, most everyone—is interested in better roads in Allen-co. Due to all sorts of circumstances, delay after delay has occurred, until the situation had reached the point that in some quarters there was despair of plans ever being realized.

Big projects are slow moving sometimes. It has been thus in connection with the improvement of Allen-co roads. What has been lacking heretofore is now being applied—unity of action. Forces have been joined and results are just around the corner.

As time goes on, the sentiment of the people grows stronger for the construction of

What a mystic couple they made on that famous dance floor; and discovered, all the spot lights in the gallery dazzled scintillatingly upon them. Billie Burke first to extend congratulations. As the curtain went up and the Frolics resumed, Will Rogers paid tribute to Capt. Vernon in these words: "And there sits one tango bird who has made good."

ELIMINATING HORRORS

IT required an Iroquois theatre horror in Chicago for an awakening of the general public of the United States to the fact that theatres were being constructed in the form of death traps. State after state adopted a building code to meet the situation after many lives had been snuffed out in a horrible manner as a result of carelessness and negligence.

Only a few weeks ago a bus load of school children was run down by a freight train on a grade crossing near Van Wert, several killed outright, others died later and many more were seriously hurt. Before the shock of the incident subsided, another similar catastrophe occurred near Painesville.

Now sentiment is being aroused against the deadly grade crossing. Lima has many of them. Their elimination costs a lot of money, but human lives are more precious than all the wealth of the state or nation. Pressure is being brought to bear on state officials for action in a campaign of elimination of grade crossings. From all quarters the inaction of the administration is being held up to criticism.

There is no denying that sentiment has been aroused to the point where steps must be taken quickly to remedy the situation. Popular demand cannot be denied. Therefore, it would indeed be wise for municipal authorities to bear in mind, constantly, that any step that can or will be taken in this direction will meet with popular approval.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well

DEATH RATE TAKES SLUMP

Nineteen twenty-one was the healthiest year in the United States and Canada yet recorded.

This, according to statistics compiled by one of our greatest life insurance companies having nearly 14,000,000 industrial policy-holders.

This group constitutes approximately one-eighth of the total population of the two countries and probably not less than one-quarter of that in the cities.

The death rate attained the low figure of 8.54 per 1000 lives. This is 13.7 per cent lower than the 1920 death rate which in turn marked the minimum recorded up to that time.

It is 31.9 per cent lower than was the rate for 1911. Just what these figures mean in actual saving of life is best shown by the fact that if the 1920 death rate had prevailed in 1921, 18,661 more would have died; if the 1911 death rate had prevailed, 54,942 more deaths would have occurred.

The decline in the 1921 death rate was accomplished largely thru reductions in the death rates for tuberculosis, pneumonia and influenza.

Lower mortality from Bright's disease, childbirth conditions, and accidents contribute in somewhat lesser degree.

In 11 years the death rate from tuberculosis has been cut in half. This in itself is an unparalleled accomplishment in the history of public health.

But more amazing still is the fact that the decline is continuing at an increasing rate from year to year.

The outstanding fact in the health situation for 1921 is that health conservation work results in greatly reduced sickness and death rates.

There has been a drop of virtually one-third in the death rate in the 11-year period.

This is a magnificent promise for the future. Humanitarians, physicians, public health workers can see in the crystal of these statistics the great reward for years of discouraging efforts at health conservation.

Many years of tireless work in this direction is bearing fruit. And the most encouraging part about the whole thing is that public health work has by no means exhausted its possibilities for life saving.

The death ratios for a number of the more important causes show marked capacity for further decline.

ON THE WAY

Youth passes, blithe and gay and sweet;
Before my window down the street
The young girls saunter on their way.

To shopping and to matines,
Slit-stockinged, slim, with dainty feet.

At times, with glances indiscreet,
They flirt with someone that they meet.

(That's natural when some lilts, gay
Youth passes!)

And now and then, from this my seat,
I try to catch a glance that's fleet;
But—I am forty, getting gray,
And to these flappers I'm passe.

Once I was young—now, I repeat,
"Youth passes!"

SPORTING SPLINTERS

WALTER JOHNSON has been mentioned in connection with "Zeb" Miller, the new manager of the Washington club.
Johnson would scarcely accept the position if it was offered him. Incidentally, it is doubtful if he would make a good manager. Walter is such a likable fellow, the players would be prone to take advantage of his kindly disposition.

ALMOST every club in the American League offered cash to Connie Mack for Joe Dugan.
Connie was willing to listen to the talk at the American League meeting, but wanted players as well as money. Dugan, with his ability plus youth, is the most valuable third sacker in the American League.

"RED" FABER was one of the few major league pitchers who wasn't bothered by the lively ball last season. With a second division ball club, Faber had one of the greatest years of his career. He seemed to be a better pitcher last year than at any time since he joined the Chicago club. His side arm spit-ball is a most deceptive delivery.

ELMER SMITH of the Cleveland club feels the same way toward Boston as Stuffy McInnis does Cleveland. Smith regards Cleveland as his home, and doesn't like the idea of going to Boston. Incidentally, he doesn't care to play on a club that punts its players around as does owner Frazee.

YOUTH must be served in baseball as in all other sports. Of the players who were active in the American League back as far as 1906, Ty Cobb is the only one to remain in active service. While Cobb lacks some of the dash and fire that characterized his play a dozen years ago, he is still able to show the way to most of the athletes, young as well as old.

Gibbons Strives To Rid Self Of Nauseous Title

(By HENRY L. FARRELL)

NEW YORK. — Tom Gibbons has a good many reasons for wanting to beat Harry Greb tonight in Madison Square Garden. His main purpose is to rid himself of his title as the champion brawler of set-ups.

Greb has been among the loudest who pointed at Gibbons' record of 21 knockouts in his last 22 fights and yelled, "Who couldn't? They were all bums."

FIRST REAL FIGHT

The Pittsburgh jumping jack is the first with the public's stamp of class on him who has met the St.
Paul clouter since he discovered his right was good for something in sides tapping.

New York believes Greb is the first big victim and the money is going down on Gibbons at 2 to 1.
Several inches in height, six or seven pounds in weight and a better punch to his advantage are factors boosting the odds on Gibbons.

MANAGER IS CONFIDENT

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, feels absolutely confident and he's to do all the talking as his charge does most of his speechmaking about a champion field dog he is training.

"Greb can't hit hard enough to make a pink mark on his face and Tom'll put him down the first time he hits him and it won't take him long," Kane said today.

George Engle, who handled Greb, naturally has his own story. He says Gibbons is made for hi. boy and that Harry will not have as much trouble as he did against Charley Weinert when he had no trouble.

DOPE FAVORS GIBBONS

Gibbons ought to beat Greb. The St. Paul boy may not be the hardest hitter in the ring, but he has developed into one of the most accurate body punchers in the business.
There isn't a heavyweight working who can stand many of his short left hooks to the body. He is fast and shifty on the defense and seems to be trained better than Greb.

Britton Only Champ
Never Knocked Out

Jack Britton, aside from being the oldest title holder, being welterweight champion at 37, enjoys another unique distinction.

Britton is the only holder of a fight title who has never been knocked out. Britton has lost decisions, had his back on the ropes, but he has never failed to get up before the count of ten.

Benny Leonard, holder of the lightweight title, has twice been knocked out. In his first year as a professionist, 1912, Joe Shugrue stopped him in four rounds. The following year Frankie Fleming knocked him out in the same number of rounds.

Johnny Dundee, holder of the junior lightweight title, was knocked in the first round of his fight with Vince Jackson in 1917.

Vince Jackson, holder of the world's flyweight title, went out of his class to meet Pete Herman and was out on his feet when they stopped the bout.

Hopes Player-Hero
Will Be A Star

Manager McGraw of the New York Giants hopes to make a brilliant first sacker out of Howard Berry.

Berry is the former University of Pennsylvania star who was a whale on the gridiron as well as the ball field.

Recently at the Giant's training camp at San Antonio, Berry won the plaudits of the natives of that city by rescuing an aged woman from a burning house.

DECISIVE RESULT IN GIBBONS-GREB GO

NEW YORK — A decisive result is hoped for tonight in the clash at Madison Square Garden between Tom Gibbons of St. Paul and Harry Greb, of Pittsburgh, in their scheduled 15 round bout. Gibbons by virtue of his weight advantages has been established the favorite. The men are to weigh in at 172 but it is generally expected that Greb will be several pounds under this poundage.

In addition the St. Paul scrapper has an advantage of two inches in reach and more than four inches in height.

Shoot On Bermuda

More than a hundred American nimrods will participate in a championship trapshooting tournament April 5, 6 and 7 on the Island of affiliated with the American Trapshooting association. It will be the first clay bird championship ever

Since McGraw knows what the veterans can do, he is more interested in directing the youngsters.

The daily games between the regulars and the scrubs are hotly contested. There is always an argument as to which team shall take the field.

This is settled by McGraw and Jennings in the usual kid fashion as shown in the picture.

"BO" MCMILLIN, CENTRE COLLEGE STAR, HERE IS A CLOSEUP AS HE REALLY IS IS NOT THE COLLAR AD TYPE ATHLETE

FOR three years "Bo" McMillin has been one of the most talked about individuals in college football.

McMillin played his last college football game at San Diego on December 26 against the University of Arizona.

As usual McMillin was the star of the game. Coast critics frankly admit that he exceeded their expectations. That is going some, when you consider all the advance publicity which featured McMillin.

In the eyes of many football enthusiasts, McMillin is the last word, the big idol of the gridiron. Often one forms a mental picture of their hero. A great many football enthusiasts the country over have never seen McMillin in person.

If you have pictured McMillin as the color ad type of athlete you are all wrong. McMillin is far from the matinee idol type. Neither would you pick him out of the crowd as the best dressed athlete on the Centre College eleven.

"Bo" isn't strong on style. No fellow could sport a name like that and pose as a "Beau Brummel." He has a fancy Norfolk suit made out of some sporty cloth. He is always neatly and quietly attired. He is probably the last person in the Centre College squad you would pick as "Bo" McMillin.

His favorite shirt is a blue one with collar attached. He has a fondness for red neckties. Blue and red, there you have a clash of colors, but
"Bo" doesn't mind that.

Yes, McMillin is superstitious.
Most great athletes are. He always rides in berth number 7. The number on the back of his football jersey is always eleven.

Get the idea, seven come eleven.

A couple of naturals, craphooter's delight.

"Bo" refused to be interviewed as to whether or not he dabbled in African golf.

Does "Bo" McMillin regard himself as the Centre College hero, one of the big national figures in football. Judge for yourself from what he says.

"This talk about the great 'Bo' McMillin is all bunk.

"There are eleven men in every play. The Centre College team hasn't any heroes.

"On every football team there is some player who carries the ball offener than another.

"I occupied that position on the Centre College eleven. Such a player usually gets all the credit. The other ten players make it possible for him to carry the ball.

"Centre has a great team. The news hounds had to make someone the hero. They made me the goat.
While I appreciate all the honors that have been conferred on me, I didn't deserve them."

There you have a close up of "Bo"
McMillin, as he looks and thinks.

SCHEDULE 12 EVENTS

TENTATIVE selection of events for the Allen-co High school track and field meet, which will be held in Lima at the county fairgrounds either the second or third week in May, toward the close of the school term, has been announced.

There are 12 events planned, as follows:

One hundred, 220, 440 and 880-yard dashes, one-mile relay and 120-yard hurdles.

Running high and broad jumps, javelin throw and shotput (12-pound), pole vault and baseball throw.

The latter is regarded as a specialty.

The local committee of High school principals, coaches and faculty members interested in the meet sent out invitations Monday day.

In event not enough first grade
High schools of Allen-co enter, Ada, Bluffton, Wapakoneta and other nearby cities will be invited to participate. It is probable, also, that a girls' section may be arranged.

Events so far planned are for boys only.

Other events, such as the discus meet a year ago.

WILL WITHDRAW

COLUMBUS — Mt. Vernon high school was expected formally to withdraw from the Ohio State university basketball tournament scheduled for next Friday and Saturday following the victory of that school at the Ohio Wesleyan tournament at Delaware Saturday.

Winners of the Delaware tourney are said to have agreed to participate in no other like affair. It was pointed out that Dayton Silvera acted similarly after attaining championship of the Wesleyan tournament a year ago.

HERE'S THE CHANCE TO GET A SEASON BASEBALL TICKET

DO YOU enjoy doping out ball games?

No better opportunity for skull practice on the national pastime than Billy Evans' annual baseball puzzle was ever presented.
You'll find his 1922 problem above
on the Lima News sport page today.

It's a stumper, alright. Evans has combined the freak plays of baseball into a combination that will make the most rabid fan burn the midnight oil on many a night before he's able to solve it.

How do you suppose six batters could step to the plate in one inning, draw a base on balls, pound out a single, double and triple, hit the ball over the fence three times, each in fair territory, and not score

a run?

The lady fan and gentleman fan who address the best answers to the sport editor of the Lima News will each be given season tickets, worth $15, for the Lima Independents' 1922 season.

Tickets for the opening game at home will be given persons who select the five next best answers. Manager Bernie Halloran will supply the tickets.

Let's have 'em, fans. Stir up the old think cap. The contest will run until March 25. The answer will be announced March 27.

HOW DID IT ALL HAPPEN?

TAKE nothing for granted in baseball, is the theory on which every one connected with the game works.

In an important game last summer, the following things happened in one inning to bear proof to that theory:

Six batters stepped to the plate.

Not a run was scored in the inning, despite the fact that a base on balls, a single, a double, and a triple were made, and three balls were hit over the fence, all being in fair territory when they passed out of the playing field.

Stranger yet, not a player was retired by being actually touched with the ball.

During all this confusion, eight runners apparently crossed the plate.

BEARER OF BOUT AGREEMENT

(BY JACK MAULIFFE)

(Retired Undeclared Lightweight Champion)

SOUTHAMPTON, England—With

nothing more than an agreement

from Joe Beckett to meet Jack

Dempsey, I am leaving England for the United States.

Some time ago I came over hunting a good lightweight or a good heavyweight because they used to build them around here, but they don't seem to make them any more.

The British Isles have only three fighters—Joe Beckett, Ted Lewis and Jimmy Wilde.

Lewis is all the range now. He has knocked the British dizzy but he couldn't be dragged back to America. He knows he would be a dead one on the other side of the water.

Jimmy Wilde is a good little fellow, but he's a theatrical magnate

now. He owns a bunch of movie houses and he's forgetting about the ring more and more every day.

MILLIONAIRE WEDS FROLIC BEAUTY--SPOOKS--FREAKS--NEWS OF WORLD THRU CAMERA

YALE STUDENT WEDS FROLIC BEAUTY.—Robert Savage, 20, son of the late millionaire steel manufacturer of Duluth, Minn., cut his classes at Yale and the Milford School long enough to marry Geneva Mitchell, 17, "Midnight Frolic" girl, and go on a honeymoon.

That's for the greatest civic service during 1921. The Philadelphia Award was founded last year by Edward Bok, publisher. Photo shows Governor Sproul congratulating Stokowski.

with a divided cape. The long panels of the same material, faced with heavy canton crepe hung over the sleeves in a most graceful manner.

DRESSES BEAUTIFULLY TRIMMED

Visiting Feldman's up-to-date ready to wear department, I was charmed with a large assortment of beautiful new gowns—so "chic" and pretty and ideal for the social events of the spring months. I was particularly impressed by the artistic trimmings, which adorned the new dresses—beads, beads, beads.

One striking gown was in royal blue canton crepe, exquisitely enhanced by beading, artistic and ornate. I was delighted with the paneled sleeves, which were right up to the minute. Panels were draped on either side of the skirt and a finished touch was given by a narrow strip of the same material, which fell gracefully to the bottom of the dress and was adorned with tassels of steel beads.

Another lovely gown was a canton crepe in gorgeous current color. It was agleam with a profusion of rich bead work—steel beads and small crystal beads harmonizing beautifully with the color of the gown. The waist had the bloused effect and the sleeves were the very wide flowing ones. The skirt was fashioned over silk in a harmonizing shade.

An unusually jaunty and nifty outfit, which was just the thing for the "flapper" was a cape dress in a light weight wool material. The dress was in a sand color, barred with red and blue strips. The cape was a clever little affair in navy blue and the fancy novelty belt to the dress gave the outfit a most artistic touch.

I found the new spring skirts immensely interesting. They are so stylish and chic and the colors unusually bright and attractive. I was informed that home-spun and tweed are the most popular materials for the skirts.

SUITS ARE ATTRACTIVE
At Bernard's I was very favorably impressed with the new suits for spring. The late, fetching fashions are very striking with the graceful lines that cleverly interpret the lit and verve of springtime. The smart Miss and Woman always places "style" foremost in choosing her suit and this year a large assortment of stylish and handsome suits will be at her disposal.

Very chic, indeed, was a suit of midnight blue tricotine, which was shown me at this artistic shop. The hat coat was heavily decorated with small iridescent beads and a slight touch of jade. It was full lined with navy blue satin and the collar was strikingly jaunty.

Another good looking suit in a navy blue tricotine (tricotine is very good this year) was stitched with a black braid. The jacket had the long French sleeves and a very smart, tailored looking collar. Several of the nifty tweed suits were shown me. They are quite reasonable and so practical and serviceable.

I was extremely fascinated with a lovely, graceful gown in a peach colored krepe knit and a white canton crepe. The combination was beautiful. A charming little detachable cape of the white canton crepe, tended a striking effect to this lovely frock. A white silk tassel hung from the collar of the cape, and the short slit sleeves of the dress were effectively trimmed in the peach colored krepe knit. Panels hanging from the shoulders were edged with long white fringe.

With all of the fascinating and beautiful frocks, which are being displayed in our up to date shops one can't help but picture the delightful scene, which will mark Easter Sunday when milady dons her new apparel and sallies forth on "dress parade."

BIG LINE OF SILVER

Into Hughes & Son, 135 N. Main-st., where I was shown the handsome Hampton service in sterling silver. I was especially delighted with the tea-spoon. So perfectly plain and easy to care for, yet so beautiful withal. Other articles of this silver were likewise—such as would cause the table which they graced, added elegance.

Homer Hughes, junior member of the firm, displayed the comport, coffee and tea pot, the hot water kettle, sugar and cream pot and waste dish. Then there were the bread tray, berry bowl, vegetable dish, water pitcher, salad fork, cheese and cracker dish, dinner, dessert and bread and butter plates. The after-dinner coffee set tray, consisting of coffee pot, sugar and cream pot, was a service I much admired.

Mr. Hughes also displayed articles in a colonial pattern of table silver necessary for any well-appointed table. The George Washington and the Molly Stark patterns, of long life plate, I much admired.

"In selecting a pattern of silverware it is well to pick out one that is 'open', that is, one that is continually carried in stock by the manufacturer in its entire assortment of pieces. Many people have adopted the pleasing custom of presenting a friend or relative with a few pieces of silverware on a birthday or other occasion and then adding pieces of the same design at subsequent periods," Homer Hughes said. The Hughes store has this open stock in many beautiful patterns.

FROCKS DELIGHT EYE
Then over to the C. E. Blum store, Elizabeth and W. Market-st., to look at the pretty new things for spring wearing. And here again, as on former visits, the frocks and gowns were a delight to the eye, an appeal to the woman who likes to be just a little ahead in dress and that without too much of a strain on the purse.

If It's Coats, Suits, Dresses, Hats, Blouses of Jewelry, It's Here

Here I found a display of suits, coats and frocks that lead the way to a season of smartness for every woman, according to her individual type.

The new Tweed suits were so beautiful. They combine in such a happy way, smart style, satisfactory service and a pleasing variety in the matter of color. It would seem from the racks and racks, that the Blum store expected to outfit every woman in Allen-co this spring, so wide was the choice in spring suits.

There were stunning top coats of herringbone tweed and chuchilla—just the garments ready for duty on any and all occasions—smart and practical, to a degree, yet dressy enough to accompany on formal occasions.

And the Blum frocks were so pretty! What with rustling, bouffant taffetas, soft clinging crepes and rich krepe-knit and other novelty weaves, developed in the most intriguing styles, the difficulty will be not "which one", but "how many." All bear the same high mark of Blum quality. And yet the prices were most reasonable.

And I found such dear, little cuff and collar sets. Most any costume or suit, if slightly worn, will be rejuvenated and made to look like new with the addition of these sets. Some had pretty little jabots attached. They come in sheer patterns and in more substantial materials for sports and workaday wear.

HATS ARE INSPECTED

So next to Gordon's, 225 N. Main-st., to take a look at the pretty showing of hats.

I was inveigled into that place by a display in the window of vari-colored shades of periwinkle, starting from the pale to the deepest. And how spring-like and warm they seemed against the blinding snow-storm!

Mrs. Lydia Miller is the charming person in charge of this department. She has a way of arranging tables of greens together, then blacks are contrasted together and on down the entire list of colors.

And such a beautiful array there was! The large and small poke, the hat which rolls away from the face and every clever shape and size, was shown. During the time before each season opens, Mrs. Miller spends a couple of months at the wholesale house, planning and making bonnets and this may be the reason for the large display and the excellent choice at command.

Each hat has that little individual style that one admires so much. While in the cities the black is considered very good, yet in Lima I note that people select flams or some color of the large family of hennas," Mrs. Miller said. "I really believe it is due to the fact that they appear so bright and cheerful after the long, dreary winter.

"Looks now as if one would not need a spring hat soon. But I have sold very, very many, and some persons who may not wish to wear them now, have come upon a style they much admired and purchased probably to prevent disappointment later," said Mrs. Miller.

Asked how she devised such charming, little creations, Mrs. Miller declared one must know how to place just the right touch here and the necessary curl there. "It's born with you, not cultivated," she declared.

NEW DRESS GOODS

Then over to the Leader store, 141-145 N. Main-st., where spring, in all the glory of every department, is revealed. In the dress goods department material rivalled even the spring months in their out-of-doors beauty, in coloring.

In the ready-to-wear department, tweeds seem to be the general favorite and it seemed the colors and mixtures were such as to excite the greatest praise. For those who do not care for the tweeds, there was the soft material and the more conservative colorings.

However, if early fashion forecasts are a criterion by which to judge, the tweeds will lead in new spring suits. And nowhere in the city is the showing more complete.

In spring dresses of taffeta and the more pronounced spring materials, there was a wide variety to select from, including the bouffant styles down to the less fussy ones.

New hats are arriving every day in the millinery department and a riot of color is found in the smart, new effects shown there. A trip thru the millinery department on a leisure after-noon is well worth the while of any woman, interested in securing only the latest and most up-to-date in millinery creations.

SILVER POLISH

Prepared chalk is excellent for clearing silver and it does not scratch. Put a little of the chalk in a saucer and dampen it with a little water. Then rub the mixture on the silver. Silver should be washed in hot water after the application of chalk.

ITALIAN DRESSING

Two eggs, two teaspoons of mustard, one teaspoon salt, one cup vinegar, one-half cup melted butter. Add to this one can of condensed milk. Stir, but do not cook.

SILVER

Silver has ousted gold as a background for handsome faces and a surface on which fancy griddles are built.

MENDING GLOVES

Cotton thread is better than silk for mending kid gloves. The silk is very liable to cut the kid. Cotton does not.

Stitching—
A Spring Trim

That a distinctive conservatism characterizes Women's Spring Footwear is the first impression created by this early season display. This perhaps is why stitching, the most refined of all trimmings is so prominent. It is found on both satin and patent slippers and a spark of novelty is present when the thread is of a contrasting color.

Also characteristic of the finest Footwear is the Spanish heel. These together with other fashionable features distinguish our Informal Spring styles. Prices begin at $7, $8, and $10.

SHOE STYLES

NEW ARRIVALS AT LOCAL SHOPS

LOVELY new arrivals are noted almost every day at the leading booteries, models that exemplify the highest standards in moderately priced spring footwear for the discriminating miss or matron.

Really, it is almost impossible to decide just which slipper or oxford leads in popularity. The styles are so emphatically new and so numerous in design, that one can hardly pass judgment on one single model.

A survey of the newest numbers on display at Gooding's shoe store brings to light just hosts of exquisite new spring styles. One of the most popular, they tell me, is the black patent model, with covered junior Louis or Spanish heels, cut-out straps across the instep and the novel insert of black silk elastic in either side. There is a distinctiveness and air of quiet elegance about this pump that makes it irresistible.

An innovation in the increasingly popular patent-and-grey combination is a model with black patent vamp, grey buckskin quarters and double straps, with the modish cut-out design in the side. The unusual note about this pump is that the high, graceful heel is black patent.

Gooding's line of the new corrective oxfords—models in black and brown kid and brown calf skin—are a God-send to the woman who demands comfort along with graceful lines. These oxfords may be had with either the low or Cuban heel and are extremely good-looking.

And among the spring novelties one cannot overlook the Colonial pump, not the original Colonial pump we are used to seeing, but a smart replica of that well-known model. The new ones have a tongue with a cut-work design and new heels. They come in black patent, too.

A black satin slipper with low covered heels, two straps and cut very low at the sides is finding increasing favor among the well-dressed woman of today. They are quite original and appropriate for either dress or street wear.

Always the needs of the feminine population on display just a little in advance of their actual need at Goodings.

A casual glance will suggest—and a critical inspection will confirm—that the newer models being shown at Crawford's Bootery are distinctly unusual, from the shape of heel to the manner of fastening. Never was there a larger selection from which to choose.

One oxford that elicits instant admiration is a new model, with the popular flat heel, developed in soft patent, with a plain, soft toe. The unusual note is struck by a wide saddle of grey kid which crosses the instep, midjet eyelets holding the narrow silk lace. This is one of the cleverest models of the season.

And speaking of flat heels, a stunning new medium brown model is on display at Crawford's, made of soft leather, plain toe, with a narrow strap extending upwards from the tip and crossed with two narrow straps. Two smoked pearl buttons complete the effect. This is an extremely durable-looking model, yet light and dressy in appearance.

Grey and black combinations are proving of infinite popularity, and one of the newer slippers in this interesting line is a model with covered grey Cuban heels, grey quarters and a wide strap of the same material, while the vamp is black patent and beautifully perforated. Unlike a great many new spring slippers, this number is cut moderately high at the sides.

Then there is an exquisite model in the same combination, but featuring the covered Spanish heel, and having double straps, with the cut-out pattern in the side.

The gracefully striking lines of a black patent slipper with a covered Spanish heel cannot be overlooked. This number has a wide strap, prettily perforated toe and is cut low at the side.

FOR PRETTY ARMS

NEW YORK—Sleeve effects are increasingly intriguing. Designers are cutting and clipping with the utmost originality at their command in their effort to produce, each time, something a little different and a little more interesting.

Claire, in this interesting flesh and black frock, has designed an unusual shoulder and something especially becoming to the girl who happens to have pretty arms. A circular band of black velvet edged with a frill of very fine black lace fits over the curve of the shoulder. Beneath one may envision the unveiled shoulder of the wearer.

The frock is fashioned with a tight bodice ornament with a circular design similar to that on the shoulder. The same design is used in the skirt. The circular cutouts in the skirt of the garment are backed with flesh chiffon.

PARIS SAYS: "Tapering Sleeves and Gracile Drapery"

Spring Dresses with Grecian Drapes

Handsome silk and bead embroideries, fringe and hand made rosettes effectively adorn many models.

Dressy Spring Suits
$22.50 to $47.50

Attaining the height of perfection in tailoring, coupled with all those elegancies of custom finish, these beautifully modelled suits are quite captivating with their box-coats and gracile wide sleeves, Peter Pan or notched collars and effective or nature of brilliant Egyptian embroideries, Ciro braid and silk tassels. The various models are fashioned of Twill Cord, and Tricotine.

LADY JANE'S WEEKLY LETTER

Dear Readers—

Perhaps there is no one thing in the World of Fashions which attracts so much attention as the color situation, depicted by the styles shown in the various shops along the Avenue. Really, I do not remember when, in all my years of experience that such beautiful colors and shadings were shown. The various shades of red blending from flame down to rust; the blues in dozens of shades; lavenders, orchids, oranges and every conceivable high color is in demand according to the individual taste, of course the staple black and navy will still be worn by those who admire these standard colors.

The tendency of styles in the respective class of garments shows coats, wraps and dresses in a little stronger demand than suits, but still it is some weeks to Easter and these popular garments will vie in popularity in the famous Easter Sunday parade on Fifth Avenue, and in selecting your garments, this again is surely a matter of personal choice and I might add that never have the wearables for the fair sex been quite as beautiful as they are this season.

Can not refrain from picturing for you a little frock made over the lines that would describe it best as its own name "The Dutch Maid." It was made of a very heavy quality crepe de chine, the bodice being of one color and the rest of the dress in another. The trimmings made of embroidery wool hand work in neat designs and is relieved with series of tilted buttons, which add extreme uniqueness to this clever frock. The one I saw was made in orchid and white and truly it is most adaptable in sizes not exceeding eighteen.

One would have to keep their eyes closed, who did not want to see the popular little crepe de chine blouses which are shown everywhere. They are made of white or black colored crepe de chine, collars in two shapes as pictured, French cuffs or silk checked material in contrasting shades of blue or rose as one may select.

Yours truly, LADY JANE.

GIRL PREACHER HITS FADS

JAZZ FIENDS, SHORT SKIRTS WILL GET HARD KNOCKS

TULSA, OKLA. — (Special—Hard) — Knockers are in store for the jazz fiends, the wearers of short skirts and peek-a-boo waists, and the habitués of the cardroom and the dance hall.

Oreita Stoddard's going after them.

She has just turned 13.

But her influence is mightier than her years. For Oreita has just been licensed by the Methodist Episcopal church as a preacher. She is believed to be the youngest girl preacher in the country.

"I'll devote my life to denouncing what I believe to be wrong, and to pleading for the acceptance of religion," she says.

RAID ON SHORT SKIRTS

Oreita's attention was diverted by a woman, nattily attired in fashion's latest mode, who passed the porch on which she was sitting.

"It's rough for our women and girls to wear such short skirts as they are wearing today," she broke out.

Then she glanced down at her own feet, swinging school-girl fashion under the porch railing on which she was perched.

"It's all right, of course, for little girls," she added.

"But the women of today don't wear enough clothes to keep warm and to protect their health. They go about in short skirts, short sleeves and peek-a-boo waists and they take colds when there is no sense in it.

"I wouldn't be wearing such short sleeves myself but for an accident at the dinner table last night. My other dress was ruined and I had to put on this one," and she glanced apologetically at her elbow-length sleeves.

Oreita doesn't look like a preacher. She looked very much like the little girl that she is as she perched on the rail, with a big black ribbon tied at her neck, holding in the blonde hair.

But her rapid flow of words and the shrewd look in her blue eyes as she talked indicated an intelligence far above that of the usual child of her age.

"Dancing and card playing are wrong," she said emphatically. "Jesus didn't do either and I think we should follow in his footsteps. I don't think these things are wrong so much in themselves, but they lead to other things that are wrong.

"The fast city life that modern girls and boys are living is driving many of them to ruin. It is a crime for officials to allow 'petting parties' and for young boys and girls to go on 'joy rides' at night in automobiles.

JAZZ COUNTERACTED

"Fortunately, however, in every town there is growing up alongside of these 'jazz followers' and 'petting party participants' another group of young people who are religiously inclined and who will counteract the foolish acts and the loose conduct of the others."

None of Oreita's people, as far as she knows, ever has been a preacher. She is the youngest of 11 children and in her home is known as "the baby girl."

"I just decided all at once that I wanted to become a preacher," she says. "My mind was made up after I had attended evangelistic services in Miami, m. home.

"I'm only in the seventh grade at school now, but I'm going to preach while I'm finishing high school and college, and then I'll either get a church charge or become a missionary. I haven't decided which.

SHORT SERMONS

"The first time I preached, I talked for 16 minutes. The longest sermon I preach ' was 32 minutes. It didn't seem like any time. I think my brother, who timed me, included my invitation, and what I said to the woman who was converted at the meeting.

"I don't memorize my sermons, or read them either. Audiences don't like that. I pick my text from the Bible and read up on it in the books in the pastor's library. Then I make an outline and talk from that.

"I condense as much as possible. Short sermons are better than long ones. People don't get tired and sleepy. A preacher should never preach any longer when his audience begins to look tired."

Oreita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Stoddard, of Miami, Okla.

CLEAN THEM

Tooth brushes should often be dipped into boiling water to disinfect them.

USE LYE

Put dry lye at the openings of the waste pipes and then pour boiling water over it. This cleanses the pipe and destroys all odors.

USE NEWSPAPER

When the pans and skillets are very greasy wipe them out with newspaper before trying to wash them. This makes the washing very much easier.

KNICKERS NEXT LOGICAL STEP

(BY RUTH ABELING)

NEW YORK — Knickers! They're coming!

They're coming for everyday use for women! Next logical step is from short skirts to knickers!

Just as surely as the hoopskirt became the bustle skirt. Just as surely as the bustle skirt became the full skirt. Just as surely as the full skirt became the hobble skirt. Just as surely as the hobble skirt became the short skirt. Just so will the short skirt become the knicker!

So says Daniel Edward Ryan.

OLD-TIME DESIGNER

Ryan is the best known designer of women's wear. He is 82 years old, the oldest designer in New York, and so has watched the passing of the years and the passing of fashions.

"Now when I say knickers," says Ryan, "spectacled and lavender socked, 'I do not mean bloomers—bloomers are sloppy and crude. I refer to neat, well-cut knickers with a smart jacket and a vest, if a woman wants to wear one.

"Hooped skirts? Atrocious! 'Bustled skirts? Ridiculous! 'Long, sweeping skirts? Unsatisfactory!

"Hobble skirts? Dangerous! 'Short skirts? Sensible! 'Knickers? Ah—they're the thing! Sensible! Beautiful!"

Ryan's Daughter Wears Them

NEW YORK. — "Knickers are all right—in their place," says Alice L. Becht, daughter of Daniel Edward Ryan, designer, and herself a designer.

"I've worn them a great deal at work and I like the freedom of them and their trim tailoredness.

"But," and Mrs. Becht is a very feminine sort, "there are times, you know, when we want to be just women. We'll never get away from that!

"And then we want pretty clothes with all of the frills! 'Even the short skirts can't stay in always—they're too practical and when women are women they aren't practical."

Thus says Ryan—and further:

COPIED THE STAGE

"Women of the ordinary walks of life watched stage women display their legs and win admiration with their beauty. And they reasoned—each one—why not try it herself?"

"So, under the influence of the theater, skirts began to get shorter and shorter until they pretty nearly reached the knees. That is one of the best movements for freedom women have ever made.

"Short skirts leave a woman leg free—and so, safe on her feet. And why should she cover her legs?"

"I'll tell you," Mr. Ryan wagged his head, "the young women of today have splendidly developed underpinnings."

"Never in all of my years as a designer have I seen such beautifully developed legs. It is astonishing! There are no knock-knees, no spindle legs, no bow legs!"

"Then why should they be hidden?"

"In designing short skirts and knickers, designers are simply catering to the desires of women."

PUMPKIN CHIPS

Pumpkin chips can be made just as orange peel is candied. They are good served with tea and cakes.

FUNERAL OF MRS. SANFORD

The Spring Mode

IN FROCKS—

Is divided—but first in fresh charm and popularity comes the material that we would naturally associate with spring,—crisp taffeta. The frocks of taffeta are either wired or ruffled this season, and indulge in bright and clever trimmings to emphasize their freshness.

The crepe frocks which are coming into our Shop from Madame Flanders, are a new note in Dresses. They are of light, crisp crepes, in soft shades that fairly glow. They meet the demand for the uneven hem line with panels, lined with a contrasting color or invisible. The entire selection ranges in price from.

$19.75 upwards

SPORT COATS—

Are of Camel's Hair, Formosa, Polo cloth, chinchilla, and similar soft weaves, and they are tailored,—extremely tailored! But there is such a selection of styles and clever making, that you will find it a delight to choose from them. Another factor enters into the Coat Shop this season, and it is that of extreme high quality, for the lowest prices possible to quote. You will readily understand this when we say that coats that sold last year for twice this price are this year priced from—

$16.00 upwards

SPORT SUITS—

And under this caption we would like to talk of home-spuns, tweeds and serges. The bright colors that dominate the field of sports suits are to be found here, including rose, blue, tan and brown in combination, etc. They are extremely chic and well tailored, as are the serges too. When the fastidious woman chooses her suit for Spring Wear, it is usually a task to choose between sports and tailored wear. It will not be difficult if she inspects this selection, for both are displayed for her decision, priced from—

MRS. CARPENTER SOROSIS HOSTESS FOR GUEST DAY

MRS. J. A. Carpenter extended the hospitality of her State-st home to the members of the Sorosis club for their annual Guest Day meeting. The event was a delightful one.

Sweet peas, hyacinths, narcissus and other spring blossoms were arranged thruout the rooms in artistic effect and the hostess was assisted in dispensing hospitality by Mrs. R. L. Evans, Mrs. S. A. Hardy and Mrs. W. E. Shook.

A most interesting and entertaining program was presented. Mrs. Joe Davidson sang two lovely numbers, "Ah Love But a Day" by Phothoree and "Spring's Awakening" by Alexander Mathews. She was accompanied by Mrs. Paul Timmerman.

Mrs. Charles Kraft delighted with a group of whistling numbers. Mrs. Stella Lewis presided at the piano. Mrs. Earl R. Leach gave an interesting reading by O. Henry. The subject was "The Guardian of the Arcolade."

Little Miss Mary Shook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Shook, favored with two pretty vocal numbers, "A Little Dutch Garden" by Victor Herbert and "Fairies" by Frederick Winthrop. Mr. Timmerman played the piano accompaniment. Two piano numbers, "Prelude in C Sharp Minor" by Rachmaninoff and "To the Rising Sun" by Torjussen were beautifully played by Mrs. Kyle Booth.

Following the program dainty refreshments were served. A color scheme of green and white, suggestive of St. Patrick's Day predominated.

POLLY AND PAUL --AND PARIS

By ZOF BECKLEY

TO TELL OR NOT?

It was still early when Paul, lonely and heavy of heart, reached the Rue d'Antin. The concierge was taking the air before closing the doors for the night. Reluctant to have her see him dejected, Paul tried to be jocular.

"And how's my wife been behaving in my absence? I left her in your charge, you know, Mme. Dubois."

"Like an angel!" came her quick reply. "In bed every night before 10, monsieur. My daughter Jeanne, was not more exemplary than madame—and I am strict with Jeanne." She rattled on almost eagerly. "Sometimes Mme. Dawson was with her friend Mlle. Brady—and an amiable young lady she is—but always she was early indoors, every night."

"What?" said Paul, queerly. "Every single night?"

"Mais, oui, monsieur, that is what I said." She suddenly began hunting for something in her little room. "I ought to know. Do I not see everything thru my little window here? But—monsieur is testing."

"Yes," said Paul. "Good night, madame."

"Bon soir, monsieur, bon soir."

Paul climbed two flights of stairs before he remembered the elevator. Then he kept on, smiling grimly. That good Mme. Dubois, friend of Polly and kindly soul that she was, had to be for her, made him sick at heart. Or—was it Violet who had told him falsely? Well—Polly would tell him when she came home.

He dreaded going in. The place would be like a tomb, or worse yet, a veritable stable of the night mares....

The door was flung open from inside—and Polly was in his arms!

ROYALTY OF WEALTH MATCHES THE ROYALTY OF LINEAGE

LONDON — The royalty of wealth is coming by leaps and bounds to a parity with the royalty of lineage. The next noteworthy marriage of a commoner and royalty will be that of England's richest young girl, Miss Edwina Ashley, who is to marry Prince Louis Mountbatten, cousin of King George and the Prince of Wales.

MISS CHRISTEN'S DAILY PAGE OF CLUB AND SOCIETY EVENTS NOTED WOMAN PREACHER WILL AID MOVE TO OPEN WIDE Y. W. C. A. DOORS

MISS MAUDE ROYDEN

(BY RUTH ABELING)
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Two questions which are to be discussed at the coming seventh biennial convention of the Y. W. C. A. will have more bearing on the development of national organization than anything brought before any previous Y convention.

These questions have to do with eliminating certain membership restrictions and it is understood that practically all of the important figures in the organization are in favor of the elimination.

OPEN DOORS WIDER

One phase of the movement would make a Y. W. membership available to country women who live where there is no local association. The other would put the matter of active membership for city girls on a purely personal basis. It would dispense with any restrictions connected with creeds or beliefs.

The convention, which will be held here April 20 to 27, will bring to America the world's most famous woman preacher, Miss Maude Royden, pastor at Guild House, London.

Miss Royden attracted international attention some fifteen years ago when she added her influence and energy to that of other English women who were fighting for suffrage. She was, however, as strongly a non-militant as she was a suffragist.

1500 DELEGATES
Miss Royden is the daughter of Sir Thomas Royden.

Another interesting figure of the convention will be Miss Anne Lamb, Anglo Indian, who has just arrived in America after a trip around the world.

About fifteen hundred delegates will attend the convention. These will come from all parts of the United States and foreign countries. Mrs. Robert E. Speer, president of the national board, will preside at the sessions.

FOR WASHING

Add about three tablespoons of ammonia to the water in which you boil the white clothing and you will find they need much less rubbing when they come out of the boiler.

LAUNDERING WOOL

In laundering wool it is important that the temperatures of the washing and rinsing waters and the drying room be as nearly the same as possible. This avoids shrinkage.

SATIN SPREADS

Bed spreads of satin which are washable and have scalloped edges are a new thing.

VELVET

The velvet parasol is very new, very novel and quite likely to achieve a success. It comes in black and brilliant colors with a quaintly cared handle.

COLORS

Ecru is trump when you're lining a light shade. Yellow is good, but ecru is much better. And the outside may be any color one wishes as long as the inside is of that tone.

NEW YORK — Will the time come when, instead of eating the great volume of food we consume today, we shall take our nourishment in a "bottle" form?

Such an idea has been the aim of chemists for a long time.

We seem hearing this possibility today for it is true that scientists have succeeded in synthesizing a Professor Moore has apparently succeeded in transforming petroleum into certain animal fats and fatty acids. This leads to the question whether lard, suet, tallow, cod liver oil might not be manufactured this way.

Many food substances can be obtained in animal or vegetable form, and if they are obtained from animals, they are ultimately of vegetable origin, since the animal's body is composed of the vegetable products it consumes.

It is certain therefore, that nature is in the vegetable world constantly transforming mineral into vegetable substances. And if this is done by nature, why cannot we learn to do it in the laboratory?

It would seem that something of the sort is on the verge of accomplishment! Sugars, starches, certain acids, fats and protein substances already have been manufactured, scarcely distinguishable from those created by nature. From this start it is possible that more complicated substances may be manufactured and that we shall "create" in the

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN TASTY CAKES

Sister Mary Suggests Some Nourishing Uses

When eggs are plentiful every body likes to bake delicate cakes. A sunshine cake, made with the yolks of eggs, should be baked when an angel cake is made using many whites.

Egg Yolks can be kept two or three days. Be careful not to break the yolk when separating whites from yolks. Put yolks in a bowl, cover with cold water and put in a cold place. When yolks are needed pour off the water and use as usual.

ANGEL FOOD CAKE
Twelve eggs (whites), 1 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup and 2 tablespoons flour, 1-2 cups sugar.

Bake in an unbuttered cake pan with a chimney for 45 minutes in a moderate oven. When baked turn pan upside down on a cake rack and let cool. If a frosting is wanted use the following:

One cup granulated sugar, 5 tablespoons milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, few grains salt.

"THE FIRST MAN" NOT UP TO O'NEILL STANDARD

MARGARET MOWER, STARRING IN "THE FIRST MAN" By JOHN O'DONNELL

NEW YORK.—The commercial as well as the artistic success of Eugene O'Neill in the past year has placed the Provincetown dramatist in such a dominating position that a failure of his receives more attention than the success of others.

The production of the third O'Neill play of the year, "The First Man," has in no way strengthened O'Neill's position. The play is important because it is a work by O'Neill and disappointing because of its dramatic weakness and general tediousness.

REVERTS TO TYPES
Most disappointing is that in "The First Man" O'Neill has ceased to be the creator of original characters and has reverted to types.

The imaginative fire, the sustained swiftness of action, which made "Emperor Jones" a success; the novel characters and the dramatist's ability to catch the glamorous and elusive beauty of "Anna Christie's" regeneration, are lacking in this new play.

Something was lost when O'Neill transferred his dramatic scenes from the jungle of Emperor Jones or the coal barge of Anna Christie to the somber quiet of Bridgetown, Conn.

Against this New England background of bigotry, O'Neill has projected a slow-moving picture of obsession, obstetric and involuntary fatherhood.

For two acts dramatic action is suffocated in conversation as Marha (Margaret Mower) wife of Curtis Jayson, pleads—at times with pitiful beauty—with her husband to welcome a coming infant.

Jayson, played in mediocre fashion by Augustin Duncan, the English actor, who was so well received in "The S. S. Tenacity," refuses to be reconciled to the child.

At the death of two infants, 10 years before the opening of the play, the Jaysons had solemnly agreed to give no more hostages to fortune. His wife had broken the agreement; her decision will prevent her from accompanying him on an expedition to the Asiatic plateau to search for the origins of man. Hence Jayson hates the child.

So for two acts. Slow moving and stifled, but loaded with O'Neill's serious and sincere gleanings from life's experience.

TRAGIC INTENSITY
It is in the third act that O'Neill sweeps into brilliance for a brief moment. The off-stage moaning of a woman, the increasing cries of pain and the final piercing scream announcing the birth of the child.

bring the action to a point of tragic intensity.

Then the sudden announcement of his wife's death, followed by Jayson's decision never to look upon the face of his unwelcome son.

"A murderer, I hate him," says the father.

In the last act the dramatist sounds a consoling note, as in "Anna Christie," the father is reconciled to his child. But happy or unhappy, this final act is unconvincing. The tragic knot is loosened, but the hand of the dramatist is apparent and the fingers are clumsy.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

I AM 20 years of age. Recently I have been going with a young girl quite frequently. I love her deeply, but I don't know whether she loves me or whether she goes with me just as a good friend. I really think she goes with me more than any of her other friends, and yet I don't know whether she cares for me. What can I do? She won't listen to me when I tell her I love her. I am anxious to marry and have a home of my own. Please help me.

JACK

It is evident that the young girl is impressed by you, but cannot make up her mind exactly whether she wants to become engaged to you just now. Be patient and do not urge her. While there is hope there is encouragement. No doubt she likes you or she would not accept so much of your attention. As long as she accepts your invitations and seems interested, in you, you may rest assured that she values your friendship which may later turn into a greater and more lasting one. However, if after a certain length of time she continues to be indifferent toward you, I am afraid, Jack, that you had better offer some other girl the home.

Dear Miss Smart:

Can you please tell us what color suits and shoes will be the style for young men for spring and summer wear? Also what color hats?

TWO READERS

So, even the young men have their worries when it comes to clothes. Now, really, I should think, a very good plan for both of you would be to visit the men's clothing store and make inquiry. The clerks will gladly tell you what new styles are in vogue for the men.

Dear Miss Smart:

Please state how I can remove ice cream and road tar stains from a silk taffeta dress.

You can remove the stain of ice cream from your dress by applying a little carbon tetrachloride with a soft cloth, rubbing over the spot from left to right and not around and around. This prevents the small ring which sometimes appears around the place where the spot has been.

Here is a splendid solution which removes all spots except ink: One ounce of castile soap, two ounces of ammonia, one ounce of chloroform, one ounce of ether, one ounce of alcohol (grain), one ounce of glycerine and one-half gallon of water.

"SHEIK'S WIFE" CURES DESERT BRIDE DESIRE

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
"THE SHEIK'S WIFE" is an antidote for "The Sheik."
 Any impressionable young lady with a yearning to rush into the burning sands of the nearest desert to be wooed and won by a tribal chieftain will find her yearning waning after one view of "The Sheik's Wife."

Many such young ladies there are. Their yearnings arose after they saw the romantic way in which Rudolph Valentino tamed Agnes Ayres in "The Sheik."

Agnes had an easy time of it in her movie harem compared to the experiences of Emmy Lynn in "The Sheik's Wife."

As Emmy arrives at her new home in the desert her sheik commands, "Hide well thy face. We have reached the home of my stern parents."

Then come the formalities of introduction. Emmy meets the sheik's mother, then she meets his father's second legal wife, then his father's third legal wife.

Then come the formalities of in-pas. She invites herself to eat with her husband, but Arab sheiks do not sit with their wives at wedding breakfasts. Brides eat what is left by their masters.

It was sacrifice for Emmy to look upon the face of a European man. Desert love must be a hard thing to endure. The surprise in "The Sheik's Wife" is that it does endure without the sheik turning out to be a European posing as an Arab. That was the silly turn of affairs in "The Sheik."

SHEIK TYPES
 The American idea of a sheik as personified in Rudolph Valentino is that of a dapper, beardless youth who remains dapper in spite of sandstorms and weary treks over the desert.

The European idea is exemplified in "The Sheik's Wife," made by a French company directed by Henry Roussel. Marcel Vilbert is the Arab chief in that.

Marcel has a weak chin and the eyes of a ziti, but a bit of chin whisker gives him a touch of desert atmosphere—it seems that all sheiks have whiskers.

Miss Weber Gives a Problem

PROBABLY no other motion picture producer in the business has wrestled with as many problem plays as Miss Lois Weber, whose "What Do Men Want?" is playing a week's engagement this week at the Sigma. And after seeing her picture, the world of women will pat her on the back and say that she has said something. What do you think men want? Intelligence, my dears!

Various club members, I am told, prevailed upon Miss Weber to make the picture, the main reason being to show (friend) how much better off he is at home with a wife than out with a vamp. True, he may be bored, but if he is the intelligent kind, he will literally hug his boredom and be glad that he is not out somewhere getting up a nice headache.

Claire Windsor as the wife in this story is exquisite and beautiful at all times. Her impression of the slump, languid lady who sits and stares and sighs is pleasing. Her rival, the vamp, is a quick moving type, although we learn later that action and pep are produced by the use of "dope."

Naturally, by the time the picture is finished the husband has come to his senses, and it is he, not the wife, who voices the sentiment that what men want is intelligence to enable them to discern between the real and the false.

The picture is exceptionally well photographed. The acting is good at all times, with J. Frank Glendon handling the role of the husband with pleasing finesse.

Taken as a whole, I think you'll enjoy the working out of this little matrimonial shakeup about as well as anything you've seen for a couple of moons. It is well done from every angle and the story is sure to hold your interest.

At the Sigma today and all this week.

Will Rogers and Lila Lee—at the Faurot

HERE'S a picture that stands in a class all by itself. It has the most unique plot imaginable, clever comedy situations and old Will Rogers just the funniest thing in the world as a "perfessor" who believes queer things about the spirit world, etc.

"One Glorious Day" is the title of this most interesting film, in which Will Rogers has one of the best roles of his career. It has been heard, hither and yon, that the story is so highly improbable. Maybe so, but how many stories of this nature could be probable? It's a question for those spiritually inclined to answer, and in the meantime, it doesn't make a whole lot of difference, because the film as it now stands is a winner.

Demonstrating the fact that an unborn spirit can come below and inhabit the person of another being, and depicting the many, many things that can happen to a man thus inhabited, the picture goes on in a merry, carefree manner, marvelling at its own audacity and plunging on to an unlooked for and incidentally, happy climax. Miss Lee, he advised, furnishes a goodly part of the climax.

New York opines and picturegoers in the other metropolitan cities declare that "One Glorious Day" is one of the most unusual comedies of the year. The combination of the real and unreal, with the droll Mr. Rogers and Miss Lee in the leading roles, is really a potion that can hardly be missed. Above all else, the picture is off the beaten path and that, as any confirmed picture goer will tell you, is worth a great deal in these days of similarity and repetition.

So—let's all go to see Will Rogers in "One Glorious Day." You will call it time well spent, surely. At the Faurot till Thursday.

Here's Danny Lund Back Again

AFTER playing repeated engagements in this city and incidentally making a host of friends, Danny Lund comes back to the Orpheum this week with a bag of new tricks, an almost new company and an unusually large amount of pep. Always a favorite with Orpheum patrons, this new showing of the Lund musical-comedy offerings is sure to please.

"In India," the current presentation which Mr. Lund is presenting the first half of this week at the Orpheum, is a merry melange of song and laughter, with new comedy, and Danny himself in a distinctly humorous role. There will be, as usual, a new program in effect on Thursday.

Faurot—Otis Skinner

Accepting "Blood and Sand" as it comes across the footlights purely on its merits as a play, it is proving to be an absorbing and exciting entertainment that holds the audience in a state of suspense.

The story is confined to the downfall of the lowly born torero under the destructive influence of the fascinating and heartless Dona Sol, who becomes the evil genius of El Galardo, Mr. Skinner, in the hour of his triumphs and then seizes and deserts him in his moment of failure and subsequent death.

Mr. Skinner, by his superb acting simply adds one more star to his already brilliant crown of successes, and he is capably supported by Catherine Calvert and Dona Sol, Madeline Delmar as his wife Rosario, Clarence Handsides as Dr. Ruiz, and for a fact the entire ensemble as provided by the Charles F. Brown Company appeals to every mind.

Mr. Skinner and his big production comes to the Faurot next Thursday night. Seats are now selling.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

wards. Once twice and again he kissed her mouth.

"There," he muttered, releasing her so abruptly that she almost fell out of the saddle and only saved herself by catching the saddle horn with both hands. "There, I've heard you boasted that no man had ever kissed you. Well, you're kissed now and you won't forget it in a hurry."

Had she had a gun, she would have shot the man. But she did not have a gun—nor any other weapon. She had even dropped her quirt somewhere.

"Oh," she cried, striking her fists together. "Oh! I could kill you! You do! You beast! Faugh! Here she wiped her mouth with the back of her hand and wiped her hand on her horse's mane.

"Here, stop crying," he directed, stretching forth an arm and leaning toward her.

At that she came alive with startling suddenness and with a full armed sweep scored his cheek with her finger nails from temple to jaw. She snatched her horse around with a jerk and flew homeward at a gallop.

CHAPTER II.

"We gotta be careful," cautioned Tom Driver, the local justice of the peace.

"Careful is our middle name," Rafe Tuckleton said reassuredly. "I s'pose you mean give the people a square deal then," sneered Felix Craft.

"If he does, he's crazy," said a lanky citizen named Shindle.

O'Gorman grinned a wide Irish smile. "No, I ain't crazy, but we'll give 'em a square deal all same."

"He is crazy," declared lank Shindle.

"A square deal," repeated O'Gorman. "A square deal—for us."

"I thought so," nodded plump Sam Larder, speaking for the first time since the beginning of the discussion. "A square deal—for us. Let's heat it, Tip."

"A sheriff with a ring in his nose," explained O'Gorman.

"One of themselves, for instance?" said plump Sam Larder, looking his hands over his paunch.

"To tell the truth, I'd more than half promised the job to Jack Murray," remarked Rafe Tuckleton.

"Who you got in mind?"

"Bill Wingo."

Dead silence for a space. Then Rafe Tuckleton looked at Sam Larder and whistled lowly. Sam's eyes switched to Tip.

"Are you sure, Tip," inquired Sam Larder, "that Bill Wingo is the breed of horse that will always drink when you lead him to water?"

Tip O'Gorman nodded his guarantee to Mr. Wingo's pliability of character. "Bill is too easy going and too natured to do anything else."

Rafe Tuckleton leaned back in his chair and stared dubiously at Tip O'Gorman. "All right for Bill, but how about Tom Walton?"

"I'll bite," Tip asserted blandly. "How about him?"

"Nothing, oh, nothing at all. Only Tom Walton has been one too many round here for a long time."

"He does talk too much," admitted Tom Driver, his bright little eyes fixed on Rafe Tuckleton.

"Walton's gotta be stopped."

"How?"

"There are ways," snarled Rafe. "Let's hear your ill plan," said Tip O'Gorman.

Every man of them listened intently to the Tuckletonian plan. As plans go it was a good plan.

Procuring an assassin to do the dirty work is always a good plan. Rafe knew a gunman, named Slike, in a neighboring territory. For $250, according to Rafe, Dan Slike would murder anyone.

"Can he do it?" doubted Tom Driver.

"We all know how slow Tom Walton is on the draw," sneered Rafe. "If Slike don't plug Walton three times before he can draw, I'll eat my shirt."

"That sounds well," said Tip O'Gorman, eyes Rafe with frank disgust. "But, somehow, I don't like the idea of having Walton killed."

"What's matter with you?" demanded the originator of the idea. "Losing your nerve?"

Tip O'Gorman's expression did not alter in the slightest. He gazed at a his questioner as if the latter were a new and interesting specimen of insect life.

"Gentlemen," Felix Craft put in hurriedly, "Tip's right. None of us want to hurt Hazel, and—"

Entered then Jack Murray, wearing a set smile across his scratched face. He nodded to the assemblage, sat down jauntily on the edge of the table and brought out the makings.

"Well," he said, his eyes on Rafe Tuckleton. "Well, I suppose you've got the ticket, all made up."

"Just about," nodded Rafe.

"What prize did I draw?"

"A large, round goose-egg," Shindle answered for Rafe with malice.

"Who you figurin' on running in my place," Murray drawled, his dark gaze on the o'garet.

"Bill Wingo."

The man slid to his feet.

"Bill Wingo," he repeated. "Bill Wingo, huh? Well, this is a surprise."

Without another word he left the room, closing the door behind him very gently.

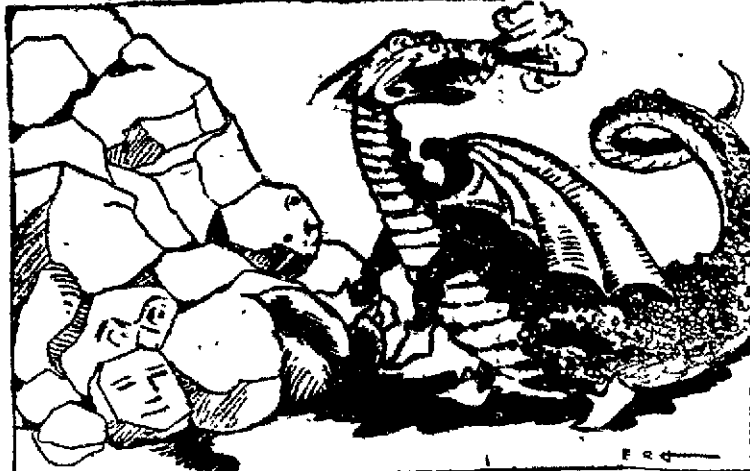

When he had gone Tip O'Gorman threw a whimsical glance at Rafe Tuckleton.

"I'd feel better if he'd slammed that door," said Tip O'Gorman.

RED FEATHER HELPS

"Chattering monkeys!" he shrieked, gnashing his teeth in rage. "I'll have to go back to my cave."

The dragon (Twelve Toes the Sorcerer he was, really) hadn't gone far when he remembered that altho he had stolen all the magic of the Twins, he had forgotten the chocolate cake. And it was very important that he take it along.

He was just about to start up the first of the Seven Mountains, which was made of rubber, when he remembered it.

"Chattering monkeys!" he shrieked, gnashing his teeth in rage. "I'll have to go back to my cave, where I left those stupid children. Well, with these Magic Green Shoes on my feet it won't take long."

So back he whisked. There lay the chocolate cake just where he had placed it to entice the children into his cave, on a little wooden table that was covered with a white napkin.

"Well, well!" said Twelve Toes in a quandry. "I can't carry a chocolate cake in this form. I need one of my front feet for carrying the magic paper and the red feather pen (as I have no pocket). And I need my other three feet for walking."

"I'll have to change myself into—"

"I'll never know, my dear, because something happened at that very minute."

The red feather shot out of his great horny claw like an arrow out of a tightly drawn bow and made straight for the inside of the great dark cave where poor Nancy and

Those Pretty Teeth

How careful people get them

Careful people—millions of them—are brushing their teeth in a new way. They do it almost the world over, and largely by dental advice. Whiter teeth is one result. You see them everywhere. Now we urge you to try the method which they use. Ask us for a ten-day test.

Just remove the film

It is film that makes teeth dingy. That viscous coat clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush used in old ways has left much of it intact.

Film is what discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. Most people's teeth are kept cloudy by it, more or less.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. It breeds millions of germs, and they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

All these troubles have been constantly increasing. And most of them are traced to film which old-way brushing left on teeth.

What must be done

Dental science, after long research, has found two film combatants. Able authorities have proved their efficiency. Now leading dentists, here and abroad, are urging their daily use.

A new-type dentifrice has been created, called Pepsodent. It complies with modern requirements. And these film-fighting methods are embodied in it. Every use attacks the film in two effective ways.

Aids Nature too

Gummy starch deposits also cling to teeth, and often ferment and form acids. To digest them, Nature puts a starch digestant in the saliva. Every use of Pepsodent multiplies that starch digestant. Nature puts alkalis in the saliva to neutralize mouth acids. Each use of Pepsodent multiplies those alkalis.

Thus Pepsodent twice daily brings five desired effects. It has brought to millions, as it will to you, a new conception of clean teeth.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube and watch the delightful effects. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear.

See the new beauty, feel the new cleanliness. Then judge for yourself what such results may mean to you and yours. This is too important to forget. Cut out the coupon now.

Are Weak Kidneys Making You Feel Older Than You Should?

Many Folks Are Older at 40 Than Others at 60. All Too Often Sick Kidneys Are to Blame.

ARE you one of those unfortunate folks who find yourself feeling older and slower than you should? Do you get up mornings feeling lame and stiff; drag around day after day with a constant aching back? Evening find you utterly worn out—fit only for bed? Do you wonder why you are beginning to feel so old—why you find it so impossible to be happy and to get from life the fun you used to have?

Then you should give some attention to your kidneys! Present day life, with its hurry and worry is mighty hard on the kidneys. The kidneys weaken, uric poisons fill the blood and upset the whole system. That's why so many folks feel years older than they really are. And all too often the true cause is overlooked until the trouble becomes chronic.

Don't neglect these early symptoms! Realize that it's just this condition that leads to hardened arteries, rheumatism, gravel, dropsy and Bright's disease. Use Doan's Kidney Pills and give your weakened kidneys the help they need. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's" Say These Lima Folks:

W. J. McClaine, retired farmer, 319 W. Kirby St., says: "I was troubled with my back and kidneys for many years. Sharp, stabbing pains went through me and seemed to take all my ambition. I felt tired and my muscles were stiff and lame. When I bent, a sharp pain took me so I could scarcely straighten again. My kidneys were inactive but when I used Doan's Kidney Pills they gave me relief. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, which I buy at Butler's Drug Store."

Mrs. Porter Doyerman, 300 E. High St., says: "My kidneys didn't act right and my back ached all the time. When I got down, I had a time trying to straighten again. My back was stiff and sore and my feet and ankles puffed up so I could hardly get on my shoes. I became dizzy and nervous and when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to give them a trial. Doan's helped me wonderfully and they never failed to do me good."

ARRESTED ON EVE OF WEDDING

12th Marriage Planned by Man Held at Indianapolis

ACCUSED OF SWINDLE GAME

Charged With Taking Girls' Money, Deserting Them

INDIANAPOLIS — (Associated Press) — Isaiah Moore's Twelfth marriage was to have taken place in Indianapolis today, according to local authorities who arrested the man yesterday on a charge of bigamy and embezzlement. Moore is alleged to have had several aliases, among them being George S. Melrose.

Moore was arrested on a charge of embezzlement preferred by his late wife, Harriet Evans, a Hoosier school teacher, and his eleventh bride. He is said to have embezzled $500 from her. Moore deserted the Evans woman after they had been married less than a week and took $300, which she said belonged to her, it is alleged.

Miss Evans said when Moore deserted her she reported the case to a national detective association who traced "George Melrose," the name under which she married him, to Logansport, Ind., and then back to Indianapolis, where he was arrested.

According to the story Moore told the police he had proposed to several Indianapolis women since his arrival here last week.

LIST OF WIVES

His first wife was Floria Dolt of Wyoming, Penn., whom he married 12 years ago. They had one child, he said.

He is said to have confessed to marrying the following other women in the order named:

Amelia Warner of Detroit, married at Windsor, Canada, under the name of Harry Moore.

Sue Harris of Houma, La., whom he married under the name of Harry Melvin.

Bessie, (he could not remember her last name) of Wilson, N. C., whom he married under the name of George Shields.

A woman whose given name was Geitride, but whose last name he is said to have told the police he could not remember, of Findlay, Ohio. He gave his name as Howard Wilson, on that occasion, it was said.

Laura Shields, whom he married at Spokane, Washington.

Florence Johnson of David, Neb., whom he married under the name of J. H. Vaughan.

Helen Hardgraves, at Augusta, Kansas.

As "Howard Wilson," Moore is said to have married Irene Hale, three years ago in Chicago. He met her thru a marriage bureau in a southern state, he said. He deserted her, taking with him $1,500, it is alleged.

In June of last year, he is said to have married Laura Herlitzberg, at Peoria, Ill., under the name of George Churchill. His last matrimonial venture was that with Miss Evans of Vincennes, Ind., whose father is said to be in the newspaper business at Coldwater, Michigan.

Moore is 32 years old. He will be arraigned in city court as soon as detectives check up on minor details of the confession he is said to have made.

HARDING SILENT ON BONUS

Will Have Nothing Further to Say on Subject

PALM BEACH, Fla. — (United Press) — President Harding, having made up his mind, according to members of his vacation party here, not to enter further into the bonus discussion of congress, will not address or meet with leaders of the American Legion in convention this week.

The president's one-day here is to be devoted to fishing and golf weather permitting. He plans to leave here tonight for St. Augustine.

The president, according to those in the party, has nothing further to say on the bonus and will stand on his recommendations for a sales tax or postponement.

The recommendations of Attorney General Daugherty for removal of prohibition enforcement machinery from the treasury to the justice department were expected to bring final decision by the time the president reached Washington.

FRANCE IS HIT BY U. S. DRY LAW

Losing 11,000,000 Francs Yearly, Wine Interests Report

PARIS — (Associated Press) — The wine interests of France, who are observing a nation-wide wine week and holding a season day conference here to consider ways and means of retrieving France's former supremacy in the wine industry, had their hopes of restored markets in the United States dampened by reports on the subject made at today's conference session.

They were cheered, however, by advice declaring there were prospects of larger sales of their product in Canada.

This was "American Day" on the conference program, and the application of the eighteenth amendment in the United States as affecting the French interests was prominent in the discussion. Prohibition under this amendment was causing France yearly a loss of 11,000,000 francs, Baron D'Anthouard told the delegates in opening the discussion.

"While we cannot hope that prohibition will be repealed in America in the near future," he said, "it is not too much to believe that amendments, permitting light wines and beer may be possible before long."

For the time being, however, we must look for other markets than the United States.

"We are not interested in ways and means for obtaining the entrance of French wines into the United States by fraud. We shall do nothing to evade the American laws, awaiting a time when America shall permit the importation of our wines as she did before the 18th amendment became effective."

His wife and daughter died some years ago. He had no known relatives. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at his residence, 1030 Richie-av. Rev. Walter D. Cole will officiate. Columbus Man Here to Aid Mrs. Thacker and Relatives

Earl Feist, 448 W. Cherry-st., Columbus, brother-in-law of Mrs. Carrie Thacker, one of the quartette of Columbus persons held at city jail under a charge of having stolen a the home of "H. E. Thacker," 133 N. the home of H. E. Thacker, 133 N. Jackson-st., appeared here Tuesday morning.

He took steps to secure their release from a charge of which is said to have been found to be bogus, having been filed, according to police, by a man named Warren Sturgees, Hagerstown, Maryland, in a spirit of revenge because one of them, Mrs. Thacker, 133 McDowell-st., Columbus, left his employ as his housekeeper in Hagerstown a week ago Sunday.

Sturgees has not been located. It is believed he fled from the city. Police found Tuesday that the address he gave was bogus.

Feist said Sturgees sent the people in custody, Mrs. Thacker, Mrs. Ethel Phillips, Bryan Carson and John Scott, threatening letters from time to time. His wife also received one from the Waldo hotel in Lima, March 7, two days before Thacker filed the charges. Feist said. Sturgees threatened her with death because she helped Scott, Carson and Mrs. Phillips rescue her from him, Mrs. Thacker said.

Mrs. Thacker also exhibits a letter of the same portent which Sturgees is alleged to have sent from a Columbus hotel. He says he will "hold her to the end of the earth" and that she will "meet justice with a 38-caliber bullet."

Sturgees was in love with Mrs. Thacker, her relatives say, but threatened her with death if she would ever tell them he was a deserter from the U. S. army.

No direct attempts have been made on Mrs. Thacker's life, she said.

Steps were taken by counsel for the four to secure their release. Because the alleged owner of the auto and money does not appear, the charge is considered dismissed, police say.

AMERICANS BACK WRANGL PLAN

Russian Soviet Enemy Proposes Oil Field Attack

LONDON — (United Press) — French and American oil interests are backing Baron Wrangel for a proposed attack on the rich Baku oil fields in case the Genoa conference fails to result in an agreement with Russia, according to reports received by soviet government officials here today.

Wrangel, indefatigable enemy of soviet rule in Russia, has arrived at Belgrade. He has in Jugoslavia the nucleus of an army composed of 30,000 former soldiers of his army which fled to Jugoslavia by way of Turkey after the Russian government quelled his last offensive in the Crimea.

According to official reports received here and in Moscow, soviet officials said today, Wrangel has secured finances for another invasion of Russia from both American and French capitalists.

Both Jugoslavia and Rumania, according to Russian officials, would be willing to cooperate with Wrangel, permitting him to move men and supplies from the Black Sea to Baku—the port of the Baku oil fields.

A drive against this territory is the only one possible at present.

Soviet officials charge the plot involves establishing a Baku government, with Wrangel at its head, which would be a puppet in the hands of Franco-American interests.

The prestige gained by Wrangel's possession of Baku, even though he could eventually be dislodged, would seriously affect any settlement that the soviet government might reach with foreign interests.

BROTHER SUB-DEACON IN MASS FOR MISS KILLORAN

Solemn requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Rose Catholic church, Tuesday at 9 a. m. for Miss Esther Killoran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Killoran, 811 Richie-av., teacher in the Washington school.

Monsignor A. E. Mannig, pastor, was celebrant of the mass. William Killoran, a brother, who is studying for the priesthood, was sub-deacon and the Rev. Father J. I. Williams, deacon.

Bearing the pall were: Dr. J. E. Morris, Ferdinand Miller, Lawrence Winkler, Raymond Norton, Linus Herman and Melvin CaJacob.

Many friends of the family and the deceased were present at final services. The body was laid to rest in Gethsemani.

R. C. BOWSER DIES IN DETROIT; FUNERAL HERE

Russell C. Bowser, 28, stock clerk with the Fisher Automobile company, Detroit, died in that city, Monday at 8:40 a. m. He had been ill two months. Death was due to tuberculosis.

The body will arrive in Lima at 3 a. m. Wednesday and will be taken to the home of his brother-in-law, Russell Born, 1003 Albert-st. Besides Mrs. Born, his mother, Mrs. Ida Bowser, 113 1-2 E. North-st., and another sister, Mrs. Verna Klav, residing with her mother and a brother, Walter Bowser, Coshocton, survive.

Funeral services will be held at the South Side Church of Christ, at a time not yet determined. The Rev. W. H. Baker will officiate.

G. A. R. NOTICE

Members of Mart Armstrong post G. A. R. are requested to meet at Memorial hall, Wednesday at 1 p. m. to go to the home of L. J. Shockey, 1030 Richie-av., to attend his funeral in a body. By order of John Klatte, commander.

RAIN AND ROBINS ARE PLENTIFUL

March is celebrat... This particular month of the year can always be depended upon to cut up weather diodes and pull off unexpected stunts for the most part of the way. The coming of the month is popularly associated with high winds, chilling atmosphere and generally undesirable conditions.

The ability of the forecaster to come thru with a realization of rain has been a real test of the weather of delicate scientific instruments and he has framed up prospect of more of the same thing we were provided with Monday, night and Tuesday.

The forecast says rain tonight and probably Wednesday morning. Somewhat colder. Despite all this, don't forget that spring conditions are forcing themselves into the limelight. The grass is greening, buds are swelling and robins may be seen and heard most anywhere early in the morning.

WALLACE FOUND GUILTY ON RUM CHARGE OF LONG STANDING IN CITY COURT

Frank Wallace was found guilty Tuesday morning in criminal court of violation of the Crabbe Act, the case having hung fire since December. Defendant's counsel has three days in which to file motion for a new trial.

Wallace was charged with having sold whisky to an agent from the office of Sheriff Charles Baxter. A raid followed in which a jug of wine and samples of hooch were confiscated, it was charged.

Samples of liquor and three one-dollar bills, marked, said to have been received by defendant in payment for illicit liquor, constituted the state's exhibits. County detective Roy Bowersock, Deputy Sheriff Laurel Baxter and several others said to have been in Wallace's place of business, the "Lark," when the raid took place, testified.

Wallace was doing business at the intersection of Central-av with Warren-st. but the place has since changed hands. He was arrested December 12.

ESCAPED INMATE FROM HOSPITAL FOUND HERE

An attack of the Columbus state hospital arrived here Tuesday and assumed charge of Marion Kelly, 30, who with another inmate, escaped from the institution Friday. Kelly was picked up by Patrolman Keller near St. Rita's hospital and held at city jail.

He said he was on his way to visit an aunt on W. High-st.

Kelly suffered injuries about the head a number of years ago when he fell off a Clover Leaf railroad train and his mind is said to be affected. He was an inmate of the Lima state hospital for a time.

His companion was not seen here.

Ray Beach, 20, 723 S. Market-st., is the third man arrested in connection with a disturbance at the Brentlinger restaurant, Central-av and North-st., early Sunday. Beach was apprehended Tuesday by Patrolman Lawler and Landfair, at his home.

Beach was arraigned, with Fred Yoder, 25, of 456 N. Elizabeth-st., Tuesday. Both pleaded not guilty. Their trials were set for Thursday at 9 a. m. on charges of disorderly conduct.

Geno Williams, first of the trio taken after plate glass windows in the Brentlinger place were broken with bricks, was fined $15 and given a ten day sentence when he pleaded guilty.

LIMA MAN HANGS SELF IN TOLEDO

G. W. Stokes Ends Life in State Hospital

Charles W. Stokes, 52, of 547 Holmes-av, formerly employed in Lima machine shops, hanged himself with a bed sheet in the receiving ward at Toledo state hospital, Monday night. The body was discovered Tuesday, still hanging to a door hinge.

Stokes was admitted to the Toledo State hospital from Lima last Saturday. He believed that his wife was admitting some one into their home who would do him bodily harm, testimony showed in lunacy court.

Besides the widow, he is survived by three children, Mrs. Cleo Brubaker and Earl Stokes, both of Lima, and Mrs. Doris Hess, Cincinnati.

G. C. Siferd, undertaker, went to Toledo and will accompany the body to Lima early Wednesday.

THREAT TO ENJOIN ROAD TAX PLAN

Landowners Object to Paying 10 Per Cent of Cost

DIXIE HIGHWAY AFFECTED

Commissioners Authorized to Widen Zone Assessed

Protests have been filed before the Allen-co road council by landholders on the Dixie Highway north of Lima, objecting to paying ten per cent of the cost of the improvement, while the landowner a few rods off the road escapes tax free. The council met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms Monday night to sift the cause of road delays.

The body was informed that injunction proceedings might be instituted. A demand was made that the council do something to remedy the matter. Levying the tax all on to the shoulders of the abutting property owners and none upon his neighbor, was denounced as an injustice.

LEVY LAW EXPLAINED
Prosecutor Eugene Lippincott explained that it is the law that five per cent of the cost shall be levied on the owners on each side of the road.
It cannot be changed, it is charged.
Injunction talk is idle, Lippincott says and might delay the road. The remedy, he said, lies with the county commissioners, who have the power to spread the assessment back for a mile or more, by unanimous consent.

Commissioners A. J. Gray and J. C.
Thompson spoke in favor of doing this. Farmers living along the Buff-ron-Lima-rd may present the matter in the form of a petition.

Allen-co should be ready to issue bonds for several sections of the 1922 road program in three weeks. District Engineer George Clements told the council.

"We are going to get you some good roads," he said. "Allen-co plans are second to none in Ohio."

Surveyor Walter Toy, told the council that his office is practically clear, having concluded its part in starting the year's road program.
The last plans will be out Tuesday.

They are the plans for paving inside the corporate limits of Elida and Beaverdam. They were left until the last. Toy said, because the roads are to be wider and include other special features.

Prosecutor Eugene Lippincott cast a gloomy note over the meeting by warning of provisions of the Griswold law which became effective January 1. It may hamper the sale of bonds, he fears.

ASSURANCE BY SHUMAKER
J. P. Shumaker, chief engineer of the state highway department, assured the gathering that Allen-co's roads will be built.

"You are getting twice the amount of money of any other county in the state," he said.

Commissioners A. J. Gray and J. C.
Thompson stated that Allen-co bonds will sell at a premium. They pledged themselves to do all in their power to push the program to completion.

Two reels of film showing the advance of road building from pioneer days to the present time were shown by Walter V. Scott, Bluffton.

TRANSFORMING OF ROADS PLANNED

Surveyor Has New System for Old Stone Pikes of County

WIDEN THEM TO 16 FEET

Urges Use of Rock Course, Bound
With Asphalt or Tar

Plans for transforming Allen-co's old stone pikes into modern hard roads, at small expense, are being considered by the county commissioners.

County Surveyor Walter Toy, who has spent some time studying the question, has urged the commissioners to concentrate on the construction of permanent roads that will bear increased traffic and be maintained in an efficient state of repair at small cost.

Allen-co has more than 900 miles of stone and gravel roads, exclusive of state highways. Revenue produced by a two mill levy amounts to a quarter of a million dollars annually. Townships have about $72-000 for road construction and repair each year.

OLD PLAN IS FAILURE Countless loads of stone have been spread on country roads in years past and there is little to show for it, according to Toy.

Investigation shows that a majority of these roads have a foundation of stone 4 to 6 inches deep and 8 to 10 feet wide.

Toy's idea is to improve these roads by widening them to 16 feet, lay a three or four inch rock course over the whole surface and bind the whole with asphalt or tar. A top dressing of rock chips would complete the job, he says.

Such roads will cost from $8,000 to $10,000 a mile and will be the equal of state highways, Toy asserts.

The county commissioners think well of the idea, according to A. J.
Gray, and may try it out this year.

THE WAY I WASH MY CLOTHES

I am old-fashioned enough to believe that while better household machinery and materials have been invented than our grandmothers had, nothing equals their way of doing things.

That is why I always soak my clothes. After sorting them I soak them in Rinso, using enough to make a good suds that will stand up even after the clothes are put in. I let them soak for an hour—or longer if I am busy about other things—for I have discovered that Rinso won't injure them in the least, yet it soaks out more dirt than any other soap.

Then I rinse them. The first rinse water is terribly dirty but every bit of dirt that is soaked out means that much less rubbing.
I only rub neckbands, and the like. Every three or four weeks
I boil my white things—except flannels, of course—using enough
Rinso to get a mild suds.

WANTS LEAGUE TO STOP MASSACRE

Senator King Takes Stand Against War on Armenians

ASKS ACTION BY SENATE

Resolution Would Put Matter up to World Body

(BY HARRY GUNT)

WASHINGTON (Special) — Failure of the United States to declare war upon Turkey during the World War has tied our hands in dealing with increasing massacres of Christians by Turks in Anatolia, Pontus and other districts of the Near East, declares Senator William H. King of Utah.

King has introduced in the Senate a resolution "deploring the failure of European powers to take effective measures and requesting the president to bring the attention of the League of Nations."

However, King says, it appears "most doubtful" if the resolution will be adopted.

ARMENIANS 'CALLOUS'
"We have grown callous," he says. "Altho it appears on a definite program for the extermination of the Armenians and Pontian Greeks, we remain indifferent and heedless."

"Notwithstanding that the Republic which the Armenians established following the war was accorded recognition, the Bolsheviks on the north and the barbarous Turks in Asia Minor have crushed, if not destroyed it."

"If our government had declared war, as it should have done, against the Turkish Empire, we would have had a voice in the treaty of Sevres. That treaty, signed Aug. 10, 1920, by Turkey, with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, demands full and complete protection of life and liberty to all inhabitants of Turkey, without regard to birth, nationality, race or religion."

TREATY IS VIOLATED
"When Turkey signed the armistice, the persecutions which had continued up to that time ceased."

"But after the treaty of Sevres was signed, it was agreed that the allied nations participating in that treaty. As a result, if they did not actually abandon the treaty, they failed to enforce it."

"Whereupon came a revival of cruelties and persecutions of all Christian peoples within Turkish territory."

"Unless some steps shall be taken by forces outside of Turkey, there seems to be no hope of salvation for these unfortunate people, whose only offense is that they are Christians."

DEADLIER THAN EVER
"Under the regime of Mustapha Kemal, wholesale slaughter and atrocities against Christians have been more violent and deadly than before."

"I have the names of a large number of cities, towns and villages all of which have recently been destroyed and the population either slaughtered or driven into the wilds of Anatolia to perish."

"Churches and monasteries where women and children have sought refuge have been invaded and after pillaging and plundering, the women and children were butchered or burned in the flaming buildings."

"The gendarmes and the thieves constituting the Turkish bands have revealed in atrocious orgies against the Christian women."

"Certainly there can be no propriety in this government appealing to the League of Nations, which is linked with the Sevres treaty, with a view to securing its intervention to prevent further bloodshed and massacre."

MRS. MARY BOCKEY WINS IN APPEALS COURT FIGHT FOR HER DOWER INTEREST

Mrs. Mary Bockey, widow of the late Matthias Bockey, won a signal victory Tuesday when the court of appeals found in her favor in a case carried up from common pleas court on error, by John E. Bockey and other heirs.

The court sustained the verdict in common pleas giving Mrs. Bockey a dower interest in $6,122 acres her husband deeded to his children without her knowledge or consent.

Existence of the deed was not discovered until his death. There was no evidence of consideration being paid for the property.

Matthias Bockey and Mary Bockey became engaged in 1906. The instrument was drawn up afterwards. It existence became the source of litigation between the children and Mrs. Bockey. She won in common pleas court, but the heirs appealed the case.

The court remanded the cause for execution.

SPRING PLOWING STARTS. COUNTY AGENT INFORMED

Spring plowing has begun in Allen Co., according to word which has reached H. J. Ridge, county farm agent.

While the frost is barely out of the ground, yet the farmer who is known as the early bird has already begun on his work of turning under the sod in the small field, preparatory to spring plantings.

Most farmers experienced more or less of a failure in farm income last year and this year they will attempt to retrieve losses by taking advantage of planting every available bit of farm space, Ridge believes.

BONUS BILL READY TO REPORT

Committee Expected to Act on Measure Today

(United Press)

A message from President Harding, giving his exact position on the new soldier bonus bill, which house Republicans have long sought, was rumored today to be on its way here from the president's vacation house about along the Florida coast.

According to reliable information the latest word from the president is being sent to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and is in response to appeals of administration leaders in the house for a definite statement from the executive as to whether he would veto the latest effort of the bonus bill framers.

Fordney early today declared he had not received any communication and that his full committee was going ahead this forenoon to report out the measure. The house is going to pass the bill, its leaders say. What happens to it in the senate or if the president's desk is a matter about which the bonuses are not now troubling themselves.

Today they had a more immediate problem—the question whether they could jam the measure through next Monday as scheduled under "suspension of the rules"—a favorite big stick method which gives the measure right of way, limits debate and assures that no embarrassing amendments are attached.

Fordney announced a conference would be held Friday with Speaker Gillett, when the latter returns from vacationing with President Harding, to see if the speaker is agreeable to this.

ST. MARTHA'S GUILD TO PAY INTEREST ON DEBT OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Members of St. Martha's Guild of Christ Church, Episcopal, have taken upon themselves the obligation of paying the interest on the mortgage of the new church debt.

The first installment of $266.25 has already been paid by Guild members to the vestry.

Each member of the Guild has been given a Lenten money bag, to be filled with the money which each one will earn during Lent. A cake and apron sale will be held on the Saturday preceding Easter at the Ottawa Point store, W. High-st.

The red bag committee of the Guild will give a St. Patrick's day dinner on Friday at the parish house, proceeds to go to fill the bags of the committee.

At a meeting of the Guild last week, with Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. King as hostesses, candy and flowers were on sale in an effort for them to make their Lenten bag money.

During Lent members of the Guild will prepare and serve luncheon every Saturday at the parish house. Men of the parish and all those who take their meals downtown, are invited to these Saturday luncheons, as well as the St. Patrick day dinner, Friday.

Mrs. L. V. Calhoun is president of the Guild; Mrs. Jack Sweeney, secretary and Mrs. Ralph R. Leete, treasurer.

FORMER LIMA MAN NAMED CHIEF

Thomas Lanker Returns to Head Police Department

OPPOSED BY HARLEY, ROHN

Former Soldier and Member of Dayton Police Force

Lima's new chief of police will be Thomas A. Lanker, 41, former Dayton lieutenant of police and soldier.

Lanker was recommended for the position some time ago and his letter made a favorable impression on the city manager and commission. His appointment was voted by the city commission Monday night and he will undertake his duties April 1.

PROVISIONAL APPOINTMENT
His appointment, it is understood, is provisional upon his making good. During three months on probation, the new police head will receive the present pay, at the rate of $1,920 a year. When he has shown his ability, however, the pay will be boosted to $2,400 per year.

Lanker formerly resided in Lima, but left here in 1902. A careful investigation of his record indicates that he may be just the man Manager Bingham has been seeking to reorganize the Lima department.

He has served in both the Dayton fire and police departments. After serving five years as a patrolman, he was advanced to sergeant, making the highest grade in an examination.

Three years afterward he passed the examination for lieutenant of police, with the highest mark of any man taking the test. During the two years he was in charge of the force of 150 officers.

During the war Lanker was selected to organize a special police force for the Dayton-Wright Aeroplane company. He remained with the company until the close of the war and in doing so lost his right to return to the force at his old rank. At present he is in charge of the protective force of the Maxwell Motor company, Dayton.

HAS GOOD ARMY RECORD
Manager Bingham states that Lanker has served two enlistments in the United States army and served thru the Spanish-American war and the Boxer rebellion in China. He was wounded during the fighting with the Boxers.

Another point in his favor, Bingham states, is that Lanker is a graduate of the New York police school and had charge of the training of the Dayton police.

James H. Lanker, 423 Hazel-av., is a brother of the new chief. Lanker is married and has five children.

Commissioners Rohn and Harley opposed bringing an out of town man here and voted against Bingham's recommendation.

PACT AMENDMENT IS UP TODAY

Robinson Proposition Doomed to Defeat in Senate

WASHINGTON (United Press) — Supporters of the four-power Pacific treaty will win the first skirmish in the senate late today.

Senator Robinson's amendment to the treaty will be rejected.

In the first vote on the treaty administration forces will have such a clear advantage that Robinson himself knows defeat is certain.

The sole significance of today's vote lies in the record it will afford of the strength of the treaty's supporters and its opponents. Up today rival claims have been unsupported by anything more tangible than the official "polls" taken by leaders on both sides.

This vote, will not, however, be conclusive as to strength of anti-treaty forces, for some senators who would not vote to amend the text of the treaty, will vote against ratification if adequate reservations are not later adopted.

The proposition on which the vote will come, is that all the signatory powers agree to respect the rights of all nations, not alone of the other signatory nations, they agree not to provoke aggression from outside. Coupled with this is a provision that if a dispute arises with an outside nation or nations, they will be invited into conference with the four powers.

ST. RITA'S GUILD PLANS POST-LENTEN CARD PARTY

St. Rita's Guild is arranging for the annual card party and dance, which will be held the evening of Thursday, April 27, as a benefit for St. Rita's hospital. The Knights of Columbus recreation building will be utilized for the event, which will be one of the large post-Lenten affairs.

The party will be held, afternoon and evening. At a meeting of the Guild arrangements were completed for the party. Mrs. A. M. Finckh is president of the Guild and Miss Mary Broderick, treasurer.

PROBES STOCKING "RUNS"

LONDON—R. G. Parker, scientist, has been employed by the National Federation of Launderers to investigate the causes of "runs" in stockings. Praying of collars also will be investigated.

CONTEST HONORS. WON BY CHINESE

PHILADELPHIA—Pin Chu, a Chinese from Canton and now a student at the architectural school of the University of Pennsylvania, has won an architectural prize in competition with hundreds of students representing the largest universities in the United States.

The prize was awarded by the Beaux Arts Institute, New York, for Pin Chu's design representing a Chinese gate-way.

"After a proper amount of western science can be imported into China, that, with Chinese conception and expression, will make Chinese architecture unsurpassable," Pin Chu says.

$194,000 WATER LINES APPROVED

City Manager Ordered to Proceed—Gas Tanks Attacked

An ordinance authorizing Manager C. A. Bingham to proceed with installation of $194,000 worth of new water lines, was read before the city commission, Monday night. It is expected to be passed at the next meeting.

The measure provides for the issuance of bonds at intervals as needed, to proceed with the work. The innovation will give the city some saving in interest, Manager Bingham announced.

The installation of a new 18-inch sewer, in Fourth-st. from Sugar-st. to a point 100 feet west of St. Johns-ave was approved by the commission. Assertion that curb tanks at gasoline filling stations are a menace, he cause of the wires of the boulevard lighting system, was embodied in a protest presented to the commission by Attorney C. J. Brotherton. It was referred to Manager Bingham.

No assurance of better street car service was given the commission at a conference held with O. E. officials, Monday.

D. J. Cable, counsel for the Ohio Electric, told the commission the company is working out some plans, which are not ready to announce.

Get Your Free

If you are thin and emaciated and wish something to help you put on flesh and increase your weight

Fast Vitamine Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamine are absolutely useless as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissues unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your blood your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the druggists of this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Fast Vitamine Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

NUXATED IRON for Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Senator King Takes Stand Against War on Armenians

ASKS ACTION BY SENATE

Resolution Would Put Matter up to World Body

(BY HARRY BUNT)

WASHINGTON — (Special) — Failure of the United States to declare war upon Turkey during the World War has tied our hands in dealing with increasing massacres of Christians by Turks in Anatolia, Pontus and other districts of the Near East, declares Senator William H. King of Utah.

King has introduced in the Senate a resolution "deploring the failure of European powers to take effective measures and requesting the president to bring the League of Nations to the attention of the League of Nations."

However, King says, it appears "most doubtful" if the resolution will be adopted.

ARMENIANS "CALLOUS"
"We have grown callous," he says. "Altho it appears on a definite program for the extermination of the Armenians and Pontian Greeks, we remain indifferent and heedless."

"Notwithstanding that the Republic which the Armenians established following the war was accorded recognition, the Bolsheviks on the north and the barbarous Turks in Asia Minor have crushed it not a straw."

"If our government had declared war, as it should have done, against the Turkish Empire, we would have had a voice in the treaty of Sevres. That treaty, signed Aug. 10, 1920, by Turkey, with Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, demands full and complete protection of life and liberty to all inhabitants of Turkey, without regard to birth, nationality, race or religion."

TREATY IS VIOLATED

"When Turkey signed the armistice, the persecutions which had continued up to that time ceased. But after the treaty of Sevres was signed, it would appear that jealousies entered into the councils of the allied nations participating in that treaty. As a result, if they did not actually abandon the treaty, they failed to enforce it."

"Whereupon came a revival of cruelties and persecutions of all Christian peoples within Turkish territory."

"Unless some steps shall be taken by forces outside of Turkey, there seems to be no hope of salvation for these unfortunate people, whose only offense is that they are Christians."

DEADLIER THAN EVER

"Under the regime of Mustapha Kemal, wholesale slaughter and atrocities against Christians have been more violent and deadly than before."

"I have the names of a large number of cities, towns and villages all of which have recently been destroyed and the population either slaughtered or driven into the wilds of Anatolia to perish."

"Churches and monasteries where women and children have sought refuge have been invaded and after pillaging and plundering, the women and children were butchered or burned in the flaming buildings."

"The gendarmes and the thieves constituting the Turkish bands have revealed in atrocious orgies against the Christian women."

"Certainly there can be no propriety in this government appealing to the League of Nations, which is linked with the Sevres treaty, with a view to securing its intervention to prevent further bloodshed and massacre."

MRS. MARY BOCKEY WINS IN APPEALS COURT FIGHT FOR HER DOWER INTEREST

Mrs. Mary Bockey, widow of the late Mathias Bockey, won a signal victory Tuesday when the court of appeals found in her favor in a case carried up from common pleas court on error, by John E. Bockey and other heirs.

The court sustained the verdict in common pleas giving Mrs. Bockey a dower interest in $6 1/2 acres her husband deeded to his children without her knowledge or consent.

Existence of the deed was not discovered until his death. There was no evidence of consideration being paid for the property.

Mathias Bockey and Mary Bockey became engaged in 1905. The instrument was drawn up afterwards. It existed because the source of litigation between the children and Mrs. Bockey. She won in common pleas court, but the heirs appealed the case.

The court remanded the cause for execution.

SPRING PLOWING STARTS. COUNTY AGENT INFORMED

Spring plowing has begun in Allen county, according to word which has reached H. J. Ridge, county farm agent.

While the frost is barely out of the ground, yet the farmer who is known as the early bird has already begun on his work of turning under the sod in the small field, preparatory to spring planting.

Most farmers experienced more or less of a failure in farm income last year and this year they will attempt to retrieve losses by taking advantage of planting every available bit of farm space, Ridge believes.

BONUS BILL READY TO REPORT

Committee Expected to Act on Measure Today

WASHINGTON—(United Press) —A message from President Harding, giving his exact position on the new soldier bonus bill, which house Republicans have long sought, was rumored today to be on its way here from the president's vacation house boat along the Florida coast.

According to reliable information the latest word from the president is being sent to Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee and is in response to appeals of administration leaders in the house for a definite statement from the executive as to whether he would veto the latest effort of the bonus bill framers.

Fordney early today declared he had not received any communication and that his full committee was going ahead this forenoon to report on the measure. The house is going to pass the bill, its leaders say. What happens to it in the senate or at the president's desk is a matter about which the bonusers are not now troubling themselves.

Today they had a more immediate problem—the question whether they could jam the measure through next Monday as scheduled under "suspension of the rules"—a favorite big stick method which gives the measure right of way, limits debate and assures that no embarrassing amendments are attached.

Fordney announced a conference would be held Friday with Speaker Gillett, when the latter returns from vacationing with President Harding, to see if the speaker is agreeable to this.

ST. MARTHA'S GUILD TO PAY INTEREST ON DEBT OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Members of St. Martha's Guild of Christ Church, Episcopal, have taken upon themselves the obligation of paying the interest on the mortgage of the new church debt. The first installment of $266.25 has already been paid by guild members to the vestry.

Each member of the Guild has been given a Lenten money bag, to be filled with the money which each one will earn during Lent. A cake and apron sale will be held on the Saturday preceding Easter at the Ottawa Paint store, W. High-st.

The red bag committee of the Guild will give a St. Patrick's day dinner on Friday at the parish house, proceeds to go to fill the bags of the committee.

At a meeting of the Guild last week, with Mrs. Bingham and Mrs. Kline as hostesses, candy and flowers were on sale in an effort for them to make their Lenten bag money.

During Lent members of the Guild will prepare and serve luncheon every Saturday at the parish house. Men of the parish and all those who take their meals downtown, are invited to these Saturday luncheons, as well as the St. Patrick day dinner, Friday.

Mrs. L. V. Calhoun is president of the Guild; Mrs. Jack Sweeney, secretary and Mrs. Ralph R. Leete, treasurer.

FORMER LIMA MAN NAMED CHIEF

Thomas Lanker Returns to Head Police Department

Former Soldier and Member of Dayton Police Force

Lima's new chief of police will be Thomas A. Lanker, 41, former Dayton lieutenant of police and soldier.

Lanker was recommended for the position some time ago and his letter made a favorable impression on the city manager and commission. His appointment was voted by the city commission Monday night and he will undertake his duties April 1.

PROVISIONAL APPOINTMENT
His appointment, it is understood, is provisional upon his making good. During three months on probation, the new police head will receive the present pay, at the rate of $1,920 a year. When he has shown his ability, however, the pay will be boosted to $2,400 per year.

Lanker formerly resided in Lima, but left here in 1902. A careful investigation of his record indicates that he may be just the man Manager Bingham has been seeking to reorganize the Lima department.

He has served in both the Dayton fire and police departments. After serving five years as a patrolman, he was advanced to sergeant, making the highest grade in an examination.

Three years afterward he passed the examination for lieutenant of police, with the highest mark of any man taking the test. During the two years he was in charge of the force of 150 officers.

During the war Lanker was selected to organize a special police force for the Dayton-Wright Aeroplane company. He remained with the company until the close of the war and in doing so lost his right to return to the force at his old rank. At present he is in charge of the protective force of the Maxwell Motor company, Dayton.

HAS GOOD ARMY RECORD

Manager Bingham states that Lanker has served two enlistments in the United States army and served thru the Spanish-American war and the Boxer rebellion in China. He was wounded during the fighting with the Boxers.

Another point in his favor, Bingham states, is that Lanker is a graduate of the New York police school and had charge of the training of the Dayton police.

James H. Lanker, 43, Hazel-st., is a brother of the new chief. Lanker is married and has five children.

Commissioners Rohn and Harley opposed bringing an out of town man here and voted against Bingham's recommendation.

PACT AMENDMENT IS UP TODAY

Robinson Proposition Doomed to Defeat in Senate

WASHINGTON—(United Press) —Supporters of the four-power Pacific treaty will win the first skirmish in the senate today.

Senator Robinson's amendment to the treaty will be rejected.

In the first vote on the treaty administration forces will have such a clear advantage that Robinson himself knows defeat is certain.

The sole significance of today's vote lies in the record it will afford of the strength of the treaty's supporters and its opponents. Up today rival claims have been unsupported by anything more tangible than the official "polls" taken by leaders on both sides.

This vote, will not, however, be conclusive as to strength of anti-treaty forces, for some senators who would not vote to amend the text of the treaty, will vote against ratification if adequate reservations are not later adopted.

The proposition on which the vote will come, is that all the signatory powers agree to respect the rights of all nations, not alone of the other signatory nations, they agree not to provoke aggression from outside. Coupled with this is a provision that if a dispute arises with an outside nation or nations, they will be invited into conference with the four powers.

ST. RITA'S GUILD PLANS POST-LENTEN CARD PARTY

St. Rita's Guild is arranging for the annual card party and dance, which will be held the evening of Thursday, April 27, as a benefit for St. Rita's hospital. The Knights of Columbus recreation building will be utilized for the event, which will be one of the large post-Lenten affairs.

The party will be held, afternoon and evening. At a meeting of the Guild arrangements were completed for the party. Mrs. A. M. Finckh is president of the Guild and Miss Mary Broderick, treasurer.

CONTEST HONORS WON BY CHINESE

PHILADELPHIA—Pin Chu, a Chinese from Canton and now a student at the architectural school of the University of Pennsylvania, has won an architectural prize in competition with hundreds of students representing the largest universities in the United States.

The prize was awarded by the Beaux Arts Institute, New York, for Pin Chu's design representing a Chinese gateway.

"After a proper amount of western science can be imported into China, that, with Chinese conception and expression, will make Chinese architecture unsurpassable," Pin Chu says.

City Manager Ordered to Proceed—Gas Tanks Attacked

An ordinance authorizing Manager C. A. Bingham to proceed with installation of $194,000 worth of new water lines, was read before the city commission, Monday night. It is expected to be passed at the next meeting.

The measure provides for the issuance of bonds at intervals as needed, to proceed with the work. The innovation will give the city some saving in interest, Manager Bingham announced.

The installation of a new 18-inch sewer, in Fourth-st., from Sugar-st., to a point 100 feet west of St. John's-ave was approved by the commission.

Assertion that curb tanks at gasoline filling stations are a menace, because of the wires of the boulevard lighting system, was embodied in a protest presented to the commission by Attorney C. J. Brotherton. It was referred to Manager Bingham.

No assurance of better street car service was given the commission at a conference held with O. E. officials, Monday.

D. J. Cable, counsel for the Ohio Electric, told the commission the company is working out some plans, which are not ready to announce.

GREEN IS PREDOMINANT COLOR FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY, OBSERVED FRIDAY

Green will be the predominating color, Friday.

In honor of St. Patrick, patron saint of Ireland, all Irish descendants of Irish parentage and those in sympathy with the little Irish nation and favorable to her people, will manifest it by wearin' o' the green.

The shops are showing the most delightful of St. Patrick favors. There is the ever-present shamrock the Irish pipes, the tall hats and novelties of many kinds in the green.

Then for the hostess who wishes to entertain at that time, there are green candles and nappery done in green. Mint and nut baskets showing a coloring of the green and there are also green candies, in honor of the day.

Wise is the hostess who plans to entertain on St. Patrick's day, for her decorations may be most varied.

Get Your $1.00 Package of Genuine Yeast Vitamins Free

If you are thin and emaciated and wish something to help you put on flesh and increase your weight

Yeast Vitamins Tablets should be used in connection with organic Nuxated Iron. Without organic iron, both food and Vitamins are absolutely useless, as your body cannot change inert, lifeless food into living cells and tissue unless you have plenty of organic iron in your blood. Organic iron takes up oxygen from your lungs. This oxygenated organic iron unites with your digested food as it is absorbed into your blood just as fire unites with coal or wood, and by so doing it creates tremendous power and energy. Without organic iron in your food your food merely passes thru your body without doing you any good.

Arrangements have been made with the drugists of this city to give every reader of this paper a large $1.00 package of Genuine Yeast Vitamins Tablets absolutely free with every purchase of a bottle of Nuxated Iron.

NUXATED IRON for Red Blood, Strength and Endurance

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

EVERYBODY'S CRAZY

NEW JERSEY reports nearly 40,000 in its insane asylums. Roughly, that's one to each 80 population.

If the ratio holds good nationally, the country must have 1,350,000 mental incompetents confined behind lock and key.

We pay great attention to diseases of the body, very little attention to diseases of the mind. This is a mistake that wiser generations will rectify later on. Largely by treating the thyroid, adrenals, pituitary and other ductless glands.

SHOCKING, to think of 1,350,000 Americans locked up because they are not mentally balanced.

Several times that number, roaming at large, are considered crazy by their associates. Many of them are the victims of living ahead of their times.

Sanity is a relative term.

It is not so long since people were looked on as lunatics if they thought the earth round instead of flat. It took Columbus and a host of other daring navigators, including Magellan who was the first person to sail around the world, to turn the tables and prove the supposedly insane really were sane.

Galileo was considered crazy because he insisted that the sun stood still, earth revolving around it. Under penalty of death, he was compelled to place his hand on the Bible and admit that the sun moved round the earth, as it seems to a watcher.

"Nevertheless," said Galileo, as he turned aside, "the sun does stand still!"

EVERY one has an obsession of some sort—a mania. You encounter the most pronounced form of monomania in the reformer who thinks his "cure-all" will right all that's wrong. He can prove, to his own satisfaction and often to others, that the subject of his mania is the cause of all evil conditions.

Most people have monomania in the mild form known as concentration.

It is impossible for any one to attain success without becoming a monomaniac on some definite subject. Thus you see one successful man devoting 80 per cent of his conscious time and thought to the commodity or service that earns him daily bread.

Take the average successful man away from his mania, and he is lost in the labyrinth of others' manias.

A book, published a few years ago, attempted to prove that everybody in the world is crazy along some line. And the book made a pretty good job of it.

Sanity is relative. And nearly every person is like the soldier who complained, "Everybody's out of step but me."

MAKE WARFARE ILLEGAL

WHAT a happy state of affairs it would be if war could be outlawed. It may be a dream, but it is not an impossibility. In fact, that is exactly what The League of Nations contemplated. America would have none of it in 1920, but in 1922 apparently sees the wisdom of a pact that goes only part of the way toward that end.

Miss Elizabeth Hauser, of Girard, addressing the Lima Open Forum, had as the keynote of her address the sentiment of making war illegal. This address recalls that Senator Philander Knox, before his death recently, was preparing to present before the world the Levison plan, providing for the establishment of a new code of international law.

In the Levison plan Senator Knox recognized something that would be of inestimable benefit to the entire world. Miss Hauser, as an advanced thinker, a student of world problems and a battler for the rights of women before they were granted the nineteenth amendment, studied the Levison plan and determined to spread the gospel of a doctrine that has as its basic purpose prevention of future wars.

Making warfare illegal is a big project. It would require that the leading nations of the earth, banded together in a mutual understanding to refrain from clash of arms where international arbitration would answer the purpose in settling problems rather than the killing of men, would also prevent others from going to war.

The intention is to protect the weaker nations, force settlement of disputes in court and gradually thru the years to come do away with all implements of warfare, using the money wasted therein in building up pursuits of peace time. Doubtless everyone, hearing the address given by Miss Hauser on the question of making warfare illegal, heartily agrees with the sentiment of the plan.

JAPAN

AMERICAN business men, who are worrying about financial falling off in foreign trade, can take fresh heart from Japan, which reports its imports are exceeding its exports about the equivalent of $45,000,000 a month.

Meaning, Japan is going in the hole that much.

Times might be a lot better in America. But they seem to be worse in every other country.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
CLEAN UP

I found some figures recently which proved about one-third of the deaths of persons under 40 are caused by diseases contracted from filth.

This seems to leave no doubt that an annual spring clean-up campaign is of vital importance to every community of any size. The degree of community during the summer months will be influenced by thoroughness or lack of it in the community housecleaning.

A city or community-wide clean-up now may head off an epidemic of infantile paralysis this summer.

The battle against this disease is one conducted for the most part in the dark. Medical men do not know exactly how it is spread. They do know, however, that the disease has been made less perilous and extensive in the last years where clean-up campaigns have become a regular annual public health measure. Disease-breeding places are at this time wiped out of existence.

Disease-producing germs thrive best in warmth, dampness and darkness. The places furnishing these conditions should be sought out and thoroughly cleaned.

Flies are without doubt one of the greatest spreaders of communicable diseases. They transport germs from person to person. A fly killed in March is equivalent to millions killed in August or September.

Mosquitoes also spread disease and these pests find ideal breeding places among empty cans, bottles and broken crockery partly filled with water.

REPETITION
I'm weary of doing things over,
Over and over again,
Weary of treading the same beaten track
Over and over—and then
Knowing tomorrow and next day
I'll do it all over again.

I'm weary of doing things over,
I wanta break loose with a yell,
Have I gotta see the same sights every day,
Meet the same people as well,
Eat the same food that I've eaten for years,
Smell the same smells that I smell?

If that's all I get out of living
Like "honest, respectable folk,"
Just doing things over and over Until the end comes and I croak—
Excuse me, I've gotta be going,
You won't see my trail for the smoke!

FARM NO LONGER ISOLATED

Rural Life Closely Linked With City by Radio

(By W. A. WHEELER)
Chief, Radio News Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture

WASHINGTON. (Special.)—Adaptation of radio communication to the use and service of agriculture will, in my judgment, do more to revolutionize life on America's farms than any other single factor that has ever been known.

Radio can bring to the farmer those things the lack of which has done most to make farm life both difficult and distasteful—news, market information, amusements and instructive entertainment.

To my mind, there is no single use of radio except the protection of life at sea and in the air that should take precedence over its utilization for the benefit of agriculture.

There are more than 32,000,000 people on farms, comprising nearly one-third the total population of the United States. Most of these are located where they are practically cut off from immediate contact with the outside world. The radio is the only means of getting to them quickly either the economic information necessary in the proper conduct of their business, or the general news of the day.

SIX RADIO STATIONS

The Department of Agriculture broadcasts weather, crop and market reports from six radio stations of the Postoffice Department.

Daily market reports on the live stock, grain, cotton, hay, feed, fruits and vegetable markets are broadcast over virtually the entire United States. Farmers located almost anywhere can receive the market direct or thru the assistance of amateur operators.

A number of state bureaus of markets and agricultural colleges are also broadcasting both local and national market and crop reports by radio telegraphy and radiophone.

With regard to the broadcasting of music and entertainment, anything in the way of entertainment that will afford the farmer even slight diversion from his daily labors will immeasurably redound to the benefit of the whole nation. The farmer is as much interested in the daily gossip, financial or sport news as anyone. In many instances, the only entertainment of which the farmer can avail himself is that which comes by radiophone.

The time element in dispatching weather, crop and market news is a big factor affecting the value of such reports.

YOU TAKE COLD EASIEST WHEN YOU ARE TIRED

Medical experts agree that colds can be passed from one person to another but they say that in order to "catch cold" your vitality must be lowered, you must be over-tired, or weakened and run down and your power of resistance below normal. You can keep free from colds by keeping your strength up and no better tonic food medicine for this purpose than Father John's Medicine is known. It will enable you to throw off a cold and rebuild your health and strength because it is made of pure food elements which strengthen and build up new resisting power. Father John's Medicine has had over twenty-five years of success for colds, coughs and body building.

And came, too, my brother John, his errand secret. Out to lunch with him at the Elks, albeit had planned to be auditor to Harry O. Bentley, the peerless one. But business before oratory ever my motto. And the menu of M. de la Henri the II, excellent with a ragout of veal, a spiced salad and glace. And after the eat and drink brother John tapped me (lightly 'tis true), and tapped me, his usual wont on these hasty visits.

Greeted gayly Elwood Lindesmith, the motor man. And sat awhile with Jawn W. Beall, the old scrivener, now of the steel king regime. Saw, too, Tom Lanker, named as our newly in come chief of police, when Chief Dawson resigns that portfolio. To the B. & O. and welcomed to our fair city, Dean Allico Emil Bryne, of the famous Western college of learning at Oxford. She here for a talk, and a good one, to the Y. W. girls. Learned with heartfelt sorrow of the death of an old friend and divine, who wed me to my wife; and ordered flowers sent in silent tribute to the Rev. I. J. Miller's bier.

To a director's meet, sitting in with Col. John A. Harley, of the Konmish, but had no words with him, albeit we are of long standing friendship. Bade adieu to President George Bayly, of Rotary, off for the operating table, and wished him well. Dropped in at Pottery and played a tune on a handsome mandolin, which I would like to own. Met a myrmidon who said the city was never so filled with glassware in alleys and that most of it was home filled. Judge Jackson to send all offenders to jail hereafter. Doffed my hat and clasped hands with Mrs. Johnnie Carnes, of Wapak; up for a day's outing in the metropolises.

In the evening to a cinema, but methought not so well done or so good a plot as I formerly that such tales to be, or else, more the right, I am nowadays out of humor; for my wife, poor wretch, not having for many the day been much out, did enjoy it well. So pleased she was as to suggest egg sandwiches and a pot of tea. Which we, over discourse of the times, did greatly enjoy until at a late hour, to bed.

BATTLE AGAINST DEATH WON

New Yorker Sentenced to Chair, Gains Freedom

RETURNS TO HIS OLD JOB

Within Seven Minutes of Electro-cution When Reprieved

(BY ALEXANDER HERMAN)
NEW YORK—After two years at the door of death—the grim, green door in Sing Sing—Joseph Cohen has come back.

Freed from the charge of murder which had been hanging over his head for nearly five years, he is hard at work on his old job—unloading chickens in the Washington Market. But he is no longer the same powerful, fearless "King Joe."

"Once," he says with a rasping voice, "I was within seven minutes of the chair. The governor's reprieve came just in time. If it had been delayed I wouldn't be here now."

Cohen had been convicted of investigating the Ruff murder which rivaled the Rosenthal case in popular interest. In 1917 he was sentenced to the death house.

REVEALS EMOTIONS
"I was in a daze from the start of the trial," said Cohen today. "The whole business was so unbelievable. But when I found myself in the little pay house up the river I knew that it was real—all too real."

"I couldn't bear to look at the bars. So I slept with my head toward the door. One night I heard a buzzing noise on the other side of the wall. It was the electric chair. I was nearly frantic."

"Thirteen men passed by my cell on the way to their death. As each would go by, there would be a noisy goodbye from the other men."

MOST TERRIBLE SOUND
"Suddenly we would hear the buzz of the motor. It's the most terrible sound in the world—absolutely indescribable. We would lose our heads and scream. But—soon everything was quiet again."

"It is not the man in the chair who is being punished," Cohen said earnestly, "but the men who are left behind. There is a living death. Any of them would rather die immediately than linger in the death house."

FROM DEATH HOUSE
After Cohen was reprieved his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, and he was taken from the death house.

"I was so weak that I couldn't walk," he said smiling for the first time. "After a couple of weeks in the hospital I began to come to and my courage returned. From then on I never gave up hope."

"And one day my dream came true. I was granted a new trial."

"Everybody in prison seemed to share my happiness. I was nursing diphtheria patients in the hospital when the doctor came in and told me to get ready. I was going to New York."

"It was the greatest moment of my life. I was released on bail. But it was only a few days ago that the courts finally freed me."

"I'm still dazed. But I'm going to start all over."

TITLE MOVES FAST
LONDON—By the death of a baronet the title changes for the second time since its creation in 1915—believed to be a record. The first baronet, Sir Thomas Watson, was killed by a motor car last May. His son, Sir Wilfred, has just died of flu. The title passes to a brother, Geoffrey.

GIRL NOW WELL AND STRONG

Daughter Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as Mother Advised

Wauseon, Ohio.—"My daughter always had backache and leg-ache at certain periods and could not be on her feet at those times. We read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing girls so much good so she began to take it. That is two years ago and she is a different girl since then able to do any work she wants to do—although she is still careful not to do heavy work—and so well and strong. We recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers with ailing daughters, and I give you permission to publish this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. A. M. BURKHOLDER, Route No. 2, Box 1, Wauseon, Ohio.

Something out of balance will affect the finest clock, causing it to gain or lose. The proper adjustment made, all is well. So it is with women. Some trouble may upset you completely.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct the cause of the trouble and disagreeable symptoms will disappear as they did in the case of Mrs. Burkholder's daughter.

MOTHERS—It is worthy of your confidence.

SHOULDER STRAPS

Women who wear the chemise frock often find the shoulder straps of the dress appearing above the neck line of the frock. A clever way to prevent this is to sew a narrow piece of ribbon to the back at the shoulder of the frock, pass it under the shoulder strap of the chemise and then hook it back to the shoulder of the dress. Thus the straps are firmly held out of sight.

COMBINATIONS

A combination conspicuous in summer hat models is that of straw and felt. Hats entirely of straw are of the broad brimmed garden variety, but the smaller smarter shapes for tailors are usually a combination of straw and felt or straw and heavy ribbon.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

LENTEN DISHES

Sister Mary Suggests Some Tasty Egg Salads

Eggs may appeal in the salad with quite as much value to the whole meal as if they constitute the main dish or a rich dessert.

The thing to remember is that hard boiled eggs or eggs in any made dish are a bit harder to digest than plain soft boiled or poached eggs. Use plenty of breads and muffins. And as the spring vegetables come into market serve them religiously.

These foods furnish the bulk and minerals so necessary to a balanced diet. Eggs are a concentrated food and other coarse foods must be furnished to satisfy hunger.

DAISY SALAD

Four hard boiled eggs, shredded leaf lettuce, mayonnaise.

Put eggs in a pan large enough to hold them without touching each other. Cover with cold water. Too much water makes the eggs break during cooking.

Cover the pan and bring slowly to the boiling point. Cook just below the bubbling point for half an hour. Eggs "hard boiled" this way are more easily digested, the white does not get tough or leathery and the yolk is dry and mealy. Plunge eggs immediately into cold water. Let stand 15 minutes, change the water as soon as the eggs make it warm. Tap the shells lightly, breaking the entire surface.

Very fresh eggs are hard to remove from the shell without making the egg white rough. This roughing of the shell makes it possible to shell even a new laid egg smoothly. Cut the eggs in half crosswise.

Since the yolks crosswise to make the centers of the daisies and cut the whites in strips lengthwise of each half to make the petals. Arrange on a bed of lettuce daisy fashion and drop a teaspoon of mayonnaise on each yolk. This rule provides a whole egg for each service.

EGGS IN JELLY

Four hard boiled eggs, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon parsley, 4 teaspoons minced parsley, hearts of lettuce, mayonnaise.

Prepare eggs as in preceding rule. Soak gelatin in one-quarter cup cold water. Let stand 15 minutes. Pour over 1-2 cups boiling water. Let stand till cool and add onion juice, salt and pepper. Put one teaspoon of the gelatin in each mold and add a slice of egg. Cover with gelatin and when beginning to set add another slice of egg. Continue layer for layer until all is used.

The gelatin will set very quickly and by the time the last mold is finished the first mold will be ready to serve.

By ALEXANDER HERMA. NEW YORK — Prince Zerdecho of Millan has set out to unite the whole world in one big brotherhood.

He'll form an international "Society to Harmonize Humanity," he says, and the first step will be the production of a great movie, written by himself and acted by himself and his princess, a Lexington, Ky., girl.

Prince Zerdecho is the son of Abu Hassan, king of Millan, small principality in Kurdistan, Central Asia. The prince is 23.

"Yusuf, the great prophet, brought Egypt to civilization when he was 17," the prince says, twirling his pin-pointed mustache, "I'm older so why shouldn't I do something big?"

"With the money made from this motion picture, I'll form my organization—and show the world a thing or two."

COLORS

Silver with bright red is a new combination which is being used much. Silver eye lace frocks are quite often made over bright red slips. Occasionally one sees such a frock over a gray slip.

HAT TRIMMINGS

Flowers, ribbons and birds are the three most fashionable trimmings for spring hats. Ribbon often composes the entire hat instead of serving merely for a binding or a bow.

AVOID DANGER

Be careful in turning electricity off or on that you do not stand on a wet floor. There is danger of the current passing thru the body if the feet are in a damp place.

USE FOR CHEESE

When the cheese becomes too dry for ordinary purposes it will do nicely for grating over scalloped foods.

ADDS TANG

Add a little cinnamon to the applesauce and it will have a better flavor.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: Will you give me your opinion of a love affair, in which the woman is older than the man and is also his superior in mental attainments. I have heard various people voice their opinion on this subject and I would like to know what you think about it. I know a couple who are going together now and I think if they ever marry they will not be happy. The woman is five years older than the man, is far better educated and a stronger character.

I WILL not say that all of the marriages, in which the woman is the older and superior in mind, result in unhappiness. There are many cases of this type where the age is never considered and the couple are contented and happy. However, one always thinks of the husband as the provider and protector and naturally we think he should be older, or at least as old, as his wife. Certainly a woman cannot really admire a man, who is younger than she and who is not at least her equal in mind and character. Perhaps I am gravely mistaken in my "theory," but I should say that only in rare cases can a woman have a happy love affair or a successful marriage with a man unless he is her superior. The love affair of the marriage in which the woman is the stronger in mind and knowledge, is usually a tragedy of a farce.

Dear Miss Smart: My husband and I have been married eight years and we have no children. I want to adopt a little baby girl. Where can we go to get one and what does it cost to adopt a baby? We both love children dearly and want one of our own. What do you think about it? Do you think we ought to adopt a baby or not?

HUSBAND AND WIFE I think it very splendid and noble of you to want to adopt a child and judging from your letter I am convinced that you would take great pride in a child and would be good and kind to it. Do not think of adopting a child unless you are confident that you could give it the same love and attention that you would one of your own. See Probate Judge J. H. Hamilton for the rules and necessary requirements in connection with the adoption of a child. The probate court is located in the county court house.

POLLY AND --AND PAR

By ZOF BECKLEY.

THE ABYSS

At Polly's question, "Where have you been?" a sudden resentment came over Paul. He had come home filled with clear-burning loyalty to his wife. The conceiver's well-meant prevarication had been a slap in the face. Polly's hesitation in clearing up the matter was another, and sharper one. Now she was looking at him with annoyance, if not suspicion in her eyes. . . . And something within him hardened and chilled.

So, too, felt Polly. It was evident that something was troubling Paul. Something he had got from another source than herself. Spied by Mme. Dubois' suggestion, her mind leaped to Violet. Of course, Violet. Always Violet, Violet, Violet! Incessantly she came between them. Forever vexing and harassing. . . . Hot anger blazed in Polly's heart. She had been patient long enough. "Yes—where were you?"

Polly and Paul stood there, eye to eye, so close, yet with an abyss opening between them that must have made the recording angel weep. It was Paul who broke the tension. "Please don't take that tone. . . . I've been to see Miss Rand. I've no reason whatever to conceal it." He turned, went into the bedroom and began a fussy hunt for his slippers. It added a fresh stab, his walking away indifferently. Had they reached the stage, Polly wondered bitterly, where sullen silences took the place of healthy spats? Well, she, at any rate, would not keep silent. Her anger against Violet burst forth.

"And she has given you her version of the Crassards' party! She has dared to lie to you—yes, lie, for the telling of a half a truth can be a lie! Whatever she has told you, it is evident you believe."

"Why don't you tell me then?" Paul spoke from the other room. "There is no need. You have accepted her tale."

"On the contrary," he came back, standing close to her and speaking with strained distinctness, "there is all the more need for you to give me the story in detail. Violet stated what she said were facts. It is strange you shouldn't want to tell me the whole thing without this urging. Why, even your good friend, the conceiver, felt it necessary to insist you had been at home every single night by 10 o'clock. . . . Come, Polly, this has gone far enough. It's getting absurd. Why don't you tell me how you and Barry came to be out until 7 in the morning?"

"Because—" Polly was blazing now. "I refuse to defend myself as tho I were a child afraid of a whipping. It is your place to defend me."

"There is no need. You have accepted her tale."

The RIDER OF GOLDEN BAR

WILLIAM PATTERSON WHITE

©1922 by Little Brown and Company

BEGIN HERE TODAY

BILLY WINGO, good natured and young range-rider of Golden Bar Wyoming, is suggested for sheriff of GORMAN, master politician of Gorman County, on the ground that Wingo is honest but too easy-going to interfere with the gang's activities in cattle stealing.

RAVE TUCKLETON, wealthy cattle-thief, agrees, altho he had promised himself to keep Wingo out of the game.

ACK MURRAY, a gunman, who is Billy's rival for the hand of SALLY JANE, PRIBSCOTT, Gorman refuses to countenance Tuckleton's plan of having Tom Walton, an honest ranchown-er. It is feared that Walton has evidence of the gang's activities.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

"Careless child," observed Bill Wingo, coming on the porch where Sally Jane lay in the hemlock. "You dropped your hat yesterday. I found it this morning.
Here it is. Don't move, sweet one.
Of course, if you asked me to sit down I would, and if you felt like using some coffee and cake, or even just a piece of pie with a bite of cheese—just a bite—just a bite, over half a pound—"

"Stop calling me 'sweet one'," Miss Prescott said crossly. "I'm not your sweet one, or anybody else's sweet one."

"Nothing like that, sweet one.
The political steersmen of our fair county rode out to my place last night and—"

"What did the old thief want?"
Sally Jane brutally wished to know.
"Offered me the nomination for sheriff."

Sally Jane's laughter was sardonic.

"Are they trying to fool me, or what?" he persisted.

"I don't know whether they're trying to fool you or not," was the reply, "but they're trying to fool somebody, that's a cinch."

"I told 'em I didn't want the job,"
he said.

He rubbed an outraged ear. "No need to deafen me," said he. "I could take a clunk to you, you fat-head!"

"So-o, so-o," he soothed. "Don't get so excited. Remember we are young but once, and every outburst bumps us nearer the grave. Lemme finish, that's a good child. They're said for me to think it over, and they'd be back in a couple of days and take it up with me again."

"Bill," said Sally Jane, leaning back on her elbow.

PATTERN FOR TODAY

A POPULAR MODEL
3921. Every "small" person likes comfort, and never more than at playtime. In this neat and simple play all "fashion" has contrived to develop a practical garment. The smock and knickers are cut in one, so the garment stays "together," and is easy to adjust.

The Pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 1, 2, 3 and 4 years. A 2 year size will require 2 3/4 yards of 36 inch material. Pongee crash, linen, gingham, chintz and cretonne are nice for this style.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results.
Takes but a moment to prepare,
and serves you about $1.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.
Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.
To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2 1/2 ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup.
Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant.
You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any kind of throat ailment.
Pine is a highly concentrated concentrated of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.
Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "3 1/2 ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded.

ily with a straight look that somehow made you wish that you had been a better boy.

"You don't come in town very often," was his sufficiently inane observation.

"Not very often," said she, and smiled.

Billy stood quite still in the middle of Main street, with his hat off, and looked after her a moment as she drove away. Then he pulled on the hat with a jerk and returned to his packing case.

"What did she say to you?" Riley wanted to know.

"None of your business," was the ungracious reply.

Riley crossed one knee over the other. "I got eyes, I have. Oh, mush and milk, love's young dream,
and when shall we meet again?"

"Aw, shut up!" urged Billy, and shoved his friend off the parking case and went elsewhere hastily.

Hazel Walton, jogging along the homeward way, was overtaken by a horseman. She returned his greeting, but cowered and made a little face after his retreating back. She did not like Jack Murray. She never had.

Hazel wondered where Jack Murray was riding so fast. For it was a hot day. Her wonder grew when, 20 minutes after he had passed from sight, she perceived by the foot-marks that he had left the trail and turned into a dry wash, a cul-de-sac ending in a rock-strewn, uncimbable slope that was the base of Block Mountain.

Beyond the wash the trail wound up the side of a hill. At the crest of the hill the off mule picked up a stone. After 10 minutes hard hammering and levering with her jackknife she had the stone out.

As she released the foot from between her knees and straightened her back, her gaze swept along the back trail. The wash into which Jack Murray had ridden was distant not half a mile.

She saw Jack Murray's horse and there was something queer about the horse's head. Whereas Jack Murray's horse when it passed her on the trail had been a sorrel of a solid color, the head was now whitely-gray.

Ever since she and her uncle had come to realize that someone was rustling their cattle, neither of them ever left home without field glasses.
Hazel pulled her pair from beneath the seat cushion and focused them

THE WHITE GOAT

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

There slowly took form a white goat with a black head and gold knobs on the ends of his horns.

Nancy and Nick stumbled out of the cave into daylight. The red feather had knocked the Cloth of Dreams from their hands to the floor, where its two parts instantly joined into one, as it had been before.
Twelve Toes the Sorcerer cut it.
Then the red feather jumped into Nick's pocket. At the same time the magic paper slipped from the clutch of the dragon (Twelve Toes, it was, you know) and followed the red feather.

But before the paper disappeared into his pocket Nick saw some words written in purple ink, so he turned his back and peeped at it cautiously.
It said, "When the dragon changes its form you and Nancy must watch your chance and grab the Green Shoes."

He put it into his pocket again and

STROHEIN'S NEW PICTURE NOT $1,000,000 STUNT

(By ESTHER WAGNER)
ERIC VON STROHEIM soon will start work on another picture. It will cost a million dollars and it will not be his own story. Therefore it promises to be a remarkably fine photoplay.

Stroheim's new photoplay will be based on a Viennese stage play. An Austrian with high artistic sense, Stroheim will probably create an opus of rare merit. That is, if some one sits on the safety valve and holds the purse strings, to mix the metaphors.

A German-made film, "The Mistress of the World," is now having its American premiere.

"The Man From Lost River"—Lyric

KATHERINE NEWLIN BURT's well known story "The Man From Lost River" continued, in its book form, a large percentage of deep thrills and exciting situations. The movie version, as being presented at the Lyric this week, is a pretty accurate production, although some of its scenes are dragged out considerably and the ending is rather abrupt.

These story centers around a handsome young weakling who loves the girl; the girl herself and the silent, sturdy man of the logging country, who also loves the girl but who stands by, ever alert and watchful, until his strong, clean love triumphs and the weakling is relegated to other regions.

House Peters is the strong one. Always dependable, his role is characteristic of his other performances.

Faurot—Otis Skinner

THE interest in "Blood and Sand" and Otis Skinner's colorful work in the wonderful Blasco novel as dramatized by Tom Cushing continues unabated and in presenting the work, Mr. Skinner is provided with an opportunity to shine in his own starlight to renewed advantage.

Mr. Skinner's sweeping and florid emotionalism are put to finely effective use in the character of El Gallardo. He is especially successful in suggesting the lonely, un-

It is presented in installment form. When Stroheim filmed "Foolish Wives" it was his intention to present it in a similar manner. After working on it a year with that idea in mind, it was presented in 12 reels.

"The Mistress of the World" started its first run simultaneously as the principal feature at the Rialto and Rivoli on Broadway, New York. Now the second installment is running as a secondary feature at the Rialto only. On the other hand, "Foolish Wives" ran seven weeks at $2 a seat and then moved to the Capitol for a week at popular prices.

and at all times he does what is required. Fritz Brunette, the girl, who finally learns that the strong, clean love of the man of the forest is much more desirable than that of her better-looking swain, does creditably.

Some of the scenes in the picture are beautiful, and the lighting and photographic effects are unusual. If you care for this rugged type of picture at all, with the dominant element of the power of good, you will most likely enjoy "The Man From Lost River." Then too, Mr. Peters has a host of friends who just wouldn't miss a picture in which he plays. So, you see, you are assured of an entertaining hour.

The Lyric is presenting "The Man From Lost River" as its featured attraction today and until Thursday.

Gregory Scott, An English Movie Hero, Who Corresponds to Wallace Reid.

Leatrice Joy, Who Will Be Leading Woman in Cecil DeMille's "Manslaughter."

Weber production featuring Claire Windsor is the special attraction today and all this week at the Sigma theatre. Also a comedy and late Fox News.

Faurot—"Two Little Girls in Blue"

"TWO LITTLE GIRLS IN BLUE" which was the outstanding musical comedy success of last Spring and Summer at the George M. Cohan Theatre, New York, where it achieved a remarkable triumph, will be presented at the Faurot Opera House, Tuesday evening, March twenty-first. The piece has just concluded an extended engagement at the Colonial Theatre, Chicago, after one hundred nights in Boston. It is said to be the most elaborately produced musical piece of recent years. The action takes place on board an ocean liner bound from New York for India and no more palatial ship ever sailed the sea than the one which is shown upon the stage. In order to make room for the elaborate stage effects the local stage has to be specially reinforced.

The story concerns two sisters, twins, alike as two peas, who try the experiment of sailing from New York to India on one ticket, as they have not money enough to buy two, and must be present in person to claim an inheritance. These twins are played by the famous Fairbanks Twins, who have long been popular with the patrons of Ziegfeld's "Follies." The cast, which is unaltered since the New York run, contains also Jack Donaghy, the grotesque dancer and comedian; Emma Janvier, Louise Kellogg, Jack Squire, the Tomson Twins, Evelyn Law and Vanda Hoff. The beauty chorus contains many Broadway personalities.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Mert Sealts, Lima bowler, was unable to bowl at a match in a nearby town. He sent word he was home with a cold. A slight mistake was made in the message. "Instead of announcing that he was in bed," reports a friend, "they announced that he was dead."

Evadna Fisher, of the county clerk's office, reports a friend bought a car. They went for a ride. The car rattled. He took it back to the dealer. "No wonder it rattled," said the dealer, "with all these loose tools under the front seat."

Bill Alexander, barber, reports a friend was greatly irritated because he had to call up a service station to have his car towed. "What seemed to irritate him most," Bill says, "was that the car was in his own driveway where it had stuck in the mud."

John McCandless, E. High-st news stand proprietor, had in his display window sets of Put and Take dice.

A small boy, anxious to know what they were for, asked John to explain. McCandless threw the dice several times, each time coming up "Put." Then the boy tried it. At the first throw they came up "T. A." McCandless explained that it meant "Take All." The boy did so. He started to walk away with the dice.

G. O. Dupuis, business men's league baseball pitcher, found that with practice he could set off a mouse trap with a stick and jerk the stick away before the spring snapped. "Then he tried it with his finger," reports a friend. "That's why his finger is tied up."
